MOTORMAN LOSES HIS LEGS IN CRASH

Passengers Thrown Through Windows and Trampled Upon in Worcester Accident

Worcester, Sept. 3.—One man was fatally injured and more than a score of others badly hurt when two electric cars crashed into each other head-on, near Holden today.

Herrick Hurlburt of this city, motorman of one of the cars, lost both legs, sustained a fractured skull and was taken to the City Hospital in a dying condition.

Others who were taken to the Holden and Worcester hospitals suffering from cuts and bruises were:

Gustave Marron, George S. Scales, Mrs. George Jenkins, all of Holden; James Moore, of Jefferson; Mrs. Catherine Prue, Mrs. C. B. Stone, of Holden; John Hurley, Worcester; C. W. Headley, Mrs. Harry Francis, Holden, and Tony Rono, Worcester.

The accident occurred on a stretch of single track of the Worcester Consolidated Street Railway, at a bad curve, where embankments cut off the view of approaching cars. According to officials of the road, the accident was due to the failure of Milton Perkins, one of the motormen, to obey signals.

The cars, one bound from Worcester to Jefferson, and the other from Jefferson to Worcester, contained about fifteen passengers each. They were travelling at fairly high speed when both swung around the curve. Before either motorman could apply his brakes the collision occurred.

Passengers were thrown through windows, knocked to the floor and trampled upon by others. Shrieks, groans, prayers and curses mingled with the grinding of wood and iron and breaking glass. Both cars were practically demolished.

Hurlburt, who was driving the car bound from Jefferson to Worcester, was caught between the two vehicles, and both legs were amputated. He also sustained a blow on the head which fractured his skull. Help was summoned from both Holden and Worcester, and the injured were treated by physicians and then removed to hospitals.

Mob Raids Italian Villa of Caruso

Famous Tenor and Bride Home After Exciting Experience. He Is Going to Mexico to Sing.

Mrs. Enrico Caruso, formerly Miss Dorothy Park Benjamin, bride of famous operatic tenor, who has just returned from Europe with her husband.

New York, Sept. 3.—Enrico Caruso, the Metropolitan Opera company's world famous tenor, returned to New York today on the Giuseppi Verdi from Genoa, accompanied by his American wife. They spent three months touring Italy. Soon after landing Caruso was informed that the Mexican grand opera had offered him $100,000 for ten appearances in Mexico City. The Giuseppi Verdi was due here last Friday, but was delayed at the Azores and by fog off the Atlantic coast.

BRINGS SON HOME.

With Mr. and Mrs. Caruso was Enrico Caruso, Jr., a fifteen-year-old son by a former marriage. He will live with his father in America.

The tenor and his wife graphically described unsettled conditions in Italy, and how their villa near Florence was raided by a crowd of people, who commandeered their wine, bread and other food. The raid occurred after Mrs. Caruso had invoted a number of people of the poorer class from the surrounding country to come to the villa for food. Many took advantage of the offer and were abundantly supplied.

"Several hours later," Caruso said, "we saw a motley crowd, waving red flags approaching. I thought a second French revolution had broken out. Some of those in the crowd had been fed by us only a few hours before. Then one of the leaders demanded the surrender of all food and wine.

TOOK WINE TENOR HAD SOLD.

"I demanded to see his credentials, and when he produced none I protested. But they invaded the house and confiscated twenty-seven demijohns of fine wine. I did not mind that, because I had sold it a few days before to a neighbor. (Caruso laughed.) They took some food and then left."

Though suffering from a cold Caruso had gained forty pounds in weight. He expects to sail for Mexico City within two weeks to fulfil the engagement offered him. He would have sailed on the 25th, but wants to remain in New York long enough to see General Pershing and the 1st Division parade down Fifth avenue.

The tenor particularly inquired for the latest news from Mexico, and, after hearing of the unsettled conditions there, remarked that he would make the trip alone.

"I do not like to expose my wife to danger," he said.

400 CARS OF FOOD COMING

Army Retail Stores Here May Be Located in U. S. Warehouse in South Boston

More than 400 carloads of army food supplies are en route to the Army Supply Base in South Boston, according to Colonel H. B. Grant, zone exchange officer in charge of the sale of army food.

Of all the foodstuffs offered for sale by the army, the three canned staples, tomatoes, corn and peas, have so far held the record for popularity. These goods are of the best quality obtainable.

Plans for the opening of the retail stores will be announced within the next day or so. According to Major E. D. Swanson, in charge of the surplus supplies, it is expected that the stores will be opened in warehouse Nos. 1 and 2, located at D and E streets, South Boston.

Clothing, other than the actual uniform, such as underclothing, socks, shoes, raincoats, blankets, shirts and gloves, are already arriving. Other lines that will be handled are kitchen utensils, toilet articles, tobacco and candy.

Not only will these things be sold over the country, but they will also be available through a mail order department.

Colonel Grant, assisted by Lieutenant-Colonel Bird, will have charge of the opening and operating of the stores in the Boston district.

Ulster Welcomes British Soldiers, Says Carson

London, Sept. 3.—Sir Edward Carson, in addressing the Ulster Unionist Council at the opening of the new anti-home rule campaign at Belfast, declared that British soldiers were welcome in Ulster province, said a dispatch from Belfast this afternoon.

"The more that come the more will understand our problem," said Sir Edward. "We are not raising an army to fight the British soldiers."

EAST BOSTON MAN SLASHES HIS WIFE

Maddened with jealousy because his pretty wife, Mary, twenty-six, mother of his three children, refused to live with him, and was rumored to be interested in another man, Joaconna di Martino, thirty-four, slashed the woman with a razor in East Boston today.

He inflicted several deep gashes on her face and neck. She is a patient at the East Boston Relief Station.

Di Martino, placed under arrest immediately after the slashing, told the East Boston police that he wanted to spoil his wife's beauty so that no other man would be interested in her. He admitted having lain in wait for her since yesterday, but said he had no intention of killing her.

In court he was charged with assault and battery with a razor, and his case was continued Wednesday with bail set at $200. The Martinos lived in Lawrence up to a short time ago.

Steady Rain Causes Wet Rot, Menaces Potato Crop

Wet rot threatens the New England potato crop, as a result of the almost constant rains that began Saturday, and were the heaviest for this season in recent years.

A total of 2.19 inches has fallen in Boston since Saturday, according to the weather bureau. While the showers have been general throughout New England, they have been heaviest in Southern Massachusetts.

The official forecast is clear weather, accompanied by cool northwest winds, beginning early this evening.

Between the hours of midnight last night and six o'clock this morning the gauge has recorded a fall of .39 inch.

A remarkable feature of the storm, that though it is a northeaster, there is no high wind, usual at this season. The lazy breeze dropping in from the sea accounts for the fog.

	Rain	Fog
Saturday	.85 inches	light
Sunday	.65 inches	light
Monday	a trace	dense
Tuesday	.39 inches	light
Wednesday	.62 inches	none

The coldest place recorded in New England is Eastport, Me., with a temperature of 56° F., while the warmest is Boston, with a temperature of 64° F. The coldest place in the United States is Helena, Mont., with 44° F.; the warmest, Key West, with 82° F.

THEATRES MAY SOON REOPEN

Forde, Head of Actors' Equity Association, Predicts Early Settlement of Strike

The theatrical strike in this city will end today or tomorrow, with a complete victory for the strikers, Hal Forde, head of the Actors' Equity Association, declared today.

Mr Forde asserted that the producers were ready to capitulate and that this action was forecasted by their reported advice to performers to hold themselves in readiness to resume work.

This statement was made at the noon meeting of the strikers in the Arlington Hotel, and followed a telephone conversation which Forde had with New York.

The head of the association stated, however, that the performers would not receive orders from the producers and managers who must first consult with him.

BALL PLAYERS OFFER SERVICES.

The meeting was addressed by six members of the New York American baseball team, with their trainer and baseball writer. They said that the Actors' Fidelity League, which is fighting the strikers, might be ignored. It is understood that the ball players, who did picketing for the New York strikers, offered their services while in this city.

The strikers were notified during the meeting that the contempt pro-

U. S. SUGAR SHORTAGE SAID TO BE TEMPORARY

Washington, Sept. 3.—Sugar shortages at all points in the United States will be cleared up shortly, it was predicted today at the offices of the Food Administration.

The shortages are due to the strike of marine workers in New York and other places along the Atlantic coast the last of July and a greatly increased consumption of sugar this year over virtually all other years, it was explained today by W. C. Mullendore, assistant counsel of the Food Administration.

CONGRESSMEN FIRST TO GREET PERSHING

Washington, Sept. 3.—When General Pershing lands on American soil he will be first greeted by a committee from Congress. This was decided today by the joint committee of the House and Senate appointed to arrange a welcome for General Pershing. The joint committee decided to leave all arrangements for the reception pending until the sub-committees can meet General Pershing when the Leviathan docks.

B. & A. SHOPMEN REJECT COMPROMISE PAY OFFER

Springfield, Sept. 3.—Shopmen of the Boston & Albany Railroad, 700 in number, employed in this section, overwhelmingly rejected the President's pay increase in balloting which took place among the various crafts.

When the results were made known it was found that fully 75 per cent. of the men voted to reject the offer.

MAYOR'S STATEMENT.

The Mayor's statement in part follows:

"The Board of Assessors of Boston announce that the tax rate for 1919 is $23.60 on the thousand which, considering the burdens placed upon the city of Boston by the State Legislature, is remarkably low, for it includes the assessment for more than seventy per cent. of the Elevated debt which in itself is responsible for $7 on every thousand.

"Despite many increases in salaries, notably the increase of $200 for firemen and policemen, and notwith-

Rest of $2.40 Rise Due to Schools and County; Highest in City's History

Boston's tax rate for the current year is $23.60, according to announcement by Mayor Peters today. This is an increase of $2.40 over last year, and is the highest in the city's history.

In a statement issued in connection with the announcement of the tax rate the Mayor says that the increase is due entirely to expenditures over which he has no control—the Elevated deficit of $1,000,000, 73 per cent of which must be borne by Boston under the law; increased school expenditures and increased county expenses. These three items account for $2.40 in the tax rate.

In other words," says Mr. Peters, "those items over which the Mayor had no control increased $2.40 over last year, while the amounts necessary for expenditures controlled by me decreased twenty-four cents per thousand. Therefore, had it not been for burdens placed by the Legislature on the city without its consent, it would have been possible to show a reduced tax rate this year, despite the greatly increased cost of operation.

STEAL LIBERTY BONDS IN QUINCY ROBBERY

Seven Liberty bonds worth $750 and a $150 diamond brooch were taken by burglars who ransacked the home of Henry F. Abbott of No. 17 Spear street, Quincy. The robbery occurred Monday night but was not reported to the police until today.

The burglars obtained entry by smashing the glass in the front door. Mrs. Abbott and her baby were alone in the house. Mr. Abbott, an official of the Fore River shipyards, is in New York on business.

'WET' CONGRESSMAN NOMINATED FOR JUDGE

New York, Sept. 3.—United States Congresman Reuben L. Haskell, who made his campaign as an out and out anti-prohibitionist, was nominated at the primaries here as Republican candidate for the position of county judge of Kings County. Haskell polled 19,502 votes as against his closest opponent's 11,222.

POPE TO FOLLOW KING IN GIFT TO PEOPLE

London, Sept. 3.—The Pope intends to follow King Victor Emmanuel's example by making a generous gift to the people of Italy, said an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Rome today. (Announcement was made in Rome that the Italian King would surrender the crown lands for use by peasants and former soldiers.)

GERMANY WARNED NOT TO ADMIT GERMAN AUSTRIA

Paris, Sept. 3.—The Supreme Council has notified Germany that the admission of German-Austria into the German Republican Federation will not be allowed.

The Council informed the German government that the clause providing for this admission must be stricken out of the new German constitution, as it is a direct violation of the peace treaty which Germany signed.

WILSON WILL DISCUSS ALL AFTER-WAR PROBLEMS DURING HIS TOUR

LABOR AND RAILROAD TOPICS INCLUDED WITH TREATY

By International News Service.

Washington, Sept. 3.—The administration's side of the problems facing the United States will be presented to the people by President Wilson during the coming twenty-seven days. The much discussed Western tour of the Chief Executive commences today.

Leaving here he will make two set addresses tomorrow, one in Columbus, O., in the morning, the second in Indianapolis, Ind., in the evening. From then until September 29—Sunday excluded—the President will devote his time to making public his views of the remedies needed to solve the after-war problems of America.

Originally intended as a trip to "report to the people his work as chief of the American commission to negotiate peace," and also to swing public sentiment behind his demand for a speedy ratification of the peace treaty by the Senate, the general scope of the tour has widened materially. It now will include discussions of the treaty, the railway situation, labor and the general scheme of peace reconstruction.

HAS MANY TOPICS.

The President, it is known, has nearly a score of topics that he intends to draw on in his various speeches. Because of this it was said today he will insist that his program be rigidly adhered to and as far as possible impromptu appearances and speeches reduced to a minimum.

The President will travel on a special train. The schedule will be withheld from publication and the train will run as far as possible as the second section of regular trains. It will be made up of a baggage car, a private car for the President, Mrs. Wilson and the President's immediate party, a car for the secret service, and two cars for newspaper representatives from the press associations and metropolitan journals. Rear Admiral Cary T. Grayson and Secretary to the President Joseph P. Tumulty will accompany the President.

OPPONENTS' TERRITORY.

This will be the President's first trip to the great Northwest and to the Pacific Coast since he was elected. Several trips to that territory have been arranged in the past, but none has been made because of important matters developing that prevented. The program of the trip has been worked out so that a good part of the time of the President will be spent in territory represented by Senators who are opposed to ratification of the peace treaty.

Before leaving here tonight the President planned a conference with Senator Gilbert M. Hitchcock, minority leader of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. It is expected that the treaty will be reported from the Senate committee, laden with amendments, early next week. Hitchcock is to lead the fight to defeat these amendments and the President planned to outline to him the objections to be raised on the floor of the Senate.

The President today asked that the bill conferring upon General Pershing permanent rank in the regular army, which passed the Senate yesterday, be rushed to him for signature before he left tonight.

PERSHING BILL RUSHED.

It was arranged that Vice-President Marshall and Speaker Gillett should sign the engrossed copy, and that it would then be sent to the President.

This will ensure Pershing landing in New York as the ranking officer of the United States Army, a position he can retain as long as he desires, as the law will waive compulsory age retirement.

The President was said to be delighted over this particular piece of legislation, considering it a partial reward for the work the American commander has done during the war.

It is expected that in his speeches on the present tour the President will outline his views regarding the labor problem. It was learned that the President considers the conference, which he will call to meet here next month to be participated in by organized labor's leaders, capital's representatives and advocates of the people at large, the most important yet suggested.

TO BE WILSON'S GUESTS.

The men invited will be the guests of the President while here. It is hoped that the first session will be in the East room at the White House, if indeed all of them are not held there.

While no one can assume to speak for the President, it was learned from men with whom he has discussed this meeting that he hopes that a general plan will be adopted that will protect equally the rights of the public, the rights of capital and the rights of the workers themselves.

The President is hopeful that the War Labor Board, as constituted to prevent disorganization of industry during the war by strikes and lockouts, can be amplified into a government weapon that will maintain the industrial equilibrium of the nation at all times and under all circumstances, and the conference will have before it all of the data secured in creating that board.

In effect what is wanted by many of the men who have studied the great problem, is something like a supreme court of industry which would have agents throughout the country and which would have the power to adjust wage and working condition grievances in an equitable manner.

WILL SELECT CONFEREES.

The conference will be held between October 5 and 10, it was stated at the White House. The method by which the conferees will be selected also was revealed. The President will send to the United States Chamber of Commerce, the American Federation of Labor, to leading agricultural organizations and to the Investment Bankers' Association invitations to submit to him a list of representatives qualified to take part in the meeting. These lists will be scanned by the President while he is on his trip and from them, he will personally select those who will participate in the conference. The number probably will be from 40 to 45, it was stated. It was emphasized at the White House that the President has not yet made any individual selections.

How Senate Stands on the Peace Treaty

Washington, Sept. 3.

The situation in the Senate on the peace treaty, on the eve of the President's speech-making tour, is resolved into four groups—those for the treaty as it stands; those against it; those who will vote for it if extreme reservations or amendments are made, and the senators who will vote for it if mild reservations are made.

WILLIAMSTOWN PRIEST GOES TO WILLMANSETT

Williamstown, Sept. 3.—The Rev. Louis A. Simard, for the past seven years pastor of St. Raphael's French Roman Catholic Church here and the Church of the Holy Family in Greylock, has been transferred to the pastorate of the French church at Willimansett and will begin his duties there today. During his local pastorate Father Simard erected the Greylock church, which is now valued at about $70,000.

RENEW EFFORTS TO PLACATE POLICE

Storrow Committee Holds More Conferences With Representatives of Union

Further conferences were scheduled today between representatives of the Boston Police Union and James J. Storrow, chairman of the committee of thirty-four which is attempting to arrange a settlement of the differences of the policemen and Commissioner Curtis.

Objectionable conditions in the department have been the chief subject of discussion at the conferences thus far and no concrete proposition to end the deadlock, between the commissioner and the policemen on the question of union affiliation has yet been submitted, union men said today.

John F. McInnes, president of the union, reiterated that no agreement involving surrender of their A. F. of L. charter would be made by the policemen. He said that after the series of conferences with the sub-committee, consisting of Mr. Storrow, George E. Brock and James J. Phelan, were concluded, he would issue a statement regarding police conditions "that will startle the public."

Enrollment of volunteers for emergency policemen is proceeding satisfactorily, according to ex-Superintendent William H. Pierce, but he declines to make known the exact number enrolled. It is understood, however, to be between 200 and 300. Most of the volunteers have been business men and bank clerks, it is said. A number of business houses have inquired of Mr. Pierce the procedure to be followed in organizing special police forces within their own organizations.

CHICAGO MAYOR SAYS JAIL PROFITEERS

Chicago, Sept. 3. — Branding the League of Nations as a "Fanciful contrivance, which would submerge the identity of the United States," Mayor William Hale Thompson has mailed to every representative in Congress elected from Chicago and to all Illinois Senators, an appeal to reduce taxation, to provide imprisonment at hard labor for all food profiteers, to place a limited embargo on exports of foodstuffs and to strive to have Congress go on record against compulsory military training.

MILFORD MAN CITED FOR VALOR OVERSEAS

Shrewsbury, Sept. 3.—Corporal Harlow A. Shepard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard S. Shepard, who served two years with the Sixth Engineers overseas, has received a citation. It reads: "Citation: Harlow A. Shepard, Corp. 159,025. In the Bois de Argremont, near Fossoy Aisne, France July 13, 1918, for devotion to duty and disregard for his personal safety in assisting in the care of the wounded on the morning of July 15, 1918."

Suspect Poison in Candy Mailed to Watertown Chief

A possible poisoned candy plot came to light today, when Chief of Police George F. Millmore of Watertown received a suspicious box of salt-water taffy from an anonymous "friend" in Atlantic City, N. J. Chemists are analyzing the taffy.

The candy was roughly done up in brown wrapping paper Chief Millmore became suspicious of the package because of the address from which it was sent. He has recently run down several "gentlemen burglars" operating in this section who came from New Jersey.

BOSTON'S TAX RATE HIGHEST IN HISTORY

Raised to $23.60, of Which $2 Is Due to L. Deficit, Says Mayor

standing the great increase in the cost of supplies, the amount raised by taxation this year for city purposes was more than half a million dollars less than last year, or, to be exact, $560,847.21, a splendid demonstration of economics in city departments.

"The increase of $2.40 per thousand over the tax rate of last year can be attributed wholly to Boston's share of the Elevated deficit assessed upon the city by the Legislature, the increase of more than $800,000 in the school appropriation, an expenditure which is beyond the control of the Mayor, and increased county expenses, another item not under the control of the Mayor.

HOW INCREASE IS DIVIDED.

"The portion of the Elevated deficit assessed upon the city of Boston accounts for $2 of the increase in the tax rate, the increased school expenditures account for fifty-four cents, an increased county expenditures account for six cents, or a total of $2.60. In other words, those items over which the Mayor had no control increased $2.60 over last year, while the amounts necessary for expenditures controlled by me decreased twenty-four cents per thousand. Therefore had it not been for burdens placed by the Legislature on the city without its consent it would have been possible to have shown a reduced tax rate this year despite the greatly increased costs of operation. In addition, it should be pointed out that the city collected this year $2.60 over last year, while the amounts necessary for expenditures controlled by me decreased twenty-four cents per thousand. Therefore had it not been for burdens placed by the Legislature on the city without its consent it would have been possible to have shown a reduced tax rate this year despite the greatly increased costs of operation. In addition, it should be pointed out that the city collected this year $3,560,000

WARNS OF WORLD'S UNREST

Criticises Both Capital and Labor—Palmer to Have Aid Against Profiteers

Discussing the labor unrest, the attitude of both labor and capital to the public and the possible strike of Boston policemen, President George Page at the American Bar Association, today asked:

"Is it to be wondered at that the police of Boston have joined themselves to an organization that, if history repeats itself, must necessarily lead to a divided allegiance?

"Is it to be wondered at," he also asked, "that ladies are left to hunger and cry for milk while drivers get their wages fixed?

He characterized the attitude of both labor and capital as "almost unrestricted and not corrected for more than a century."

President Page touched on prohibition and Bolshevism, also. He said:

"I am confused and in doubt whether there remains faith enough to believe that the average man will surrender enough of their selfish desires for money and power to permit the successful establishment of a government 'dedicated unto God to have a new freedom, a government of the people, by the people, for the people.'

"The man who does not stand with bowed head, awed by the awful past, the unfeeling and confusing present, and the ominous future, has neither feeling, thoughtfulness, nor prudence.

PROBLEMS DEMAND COURAGE.

"In spite of it all, however, we must not fear, doubt or falter, but must take up intelligently and with courage and determination the seemingly impossible tasks that are all about us, and reconstruct and readjust the broken and disturbed condition of things produced on the one hand by the war, and on the other hand, by what seems to be our utter disregard of the fundamentals necessary to establish and perpetuate a democratic form of government.

"The fundamental difficulties are not numerous or hard to discover. Those things that have destroyed governments and that are working our confusion now are things which have been open and obvious for nearly a century, and should not occasion surprise."

BAR ASSN. WILL AID PALMER.

Attorney-General A. Mitchell Palmer today submitted to the association a request that it aid him in the mobilization of the country's legal machinery for a nation-wide attack on food hoarders and profiteers.

The Attorney-General was detained at his Pennsylvania home by illness, and the resolution was submitted by telegraph to the 2,000 delegates in Huntington Hall for the formal opening of the annual meeting.

In response to the request, a committee will be appointed to confer with Mr. Palmer and perfect the organization he wishes to bring about.

LORD FINLAY ARRIVES.

Lord Finlay, former Lord Chancellor of Great Britain, arrived from Canada in time for the morning session. Also on the platform today was Elihu Root, former Secretary of State. Both spoke briefly.

Governor Coolidge was unable to officially welcome the delegates to Massachusetts, owing to an engagement to speak at a community celebration in Westfield.

The American Institute of Criminal Law and Criminology, which is meeting in conjunction with the Bar Association, held its eleventh annual election today. The following officers were chosen: President, Judge Hugo Pam of Cook County Superior Court, Chicago; first vice-president, Bronson Whithrop of New York; secretary, Edwin M. Abbott of Philadelphia; vice-presidents, Judge Charles A. De Courcy of the Massachusetts Supreme Court; Burkett Lewis, commissioner of crime in New Jersey, and Joel B. Hunter, general superintendent of the United Charities, Chicago. Many of the delegates attended the opening of the meeting in war service uniforms.

"Our second great difficulty is that we have left a people who have grown very numerous under a government which has been large and very complicated, wholly ignorant and untaught as to the meaning of life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness, under a constitutional government, and wholly ignorant as to the quantity and quality of responsibilities that rest upon the individual.

"The third and possibly an unsurmountable difficulty is that we have a realization of a true democracy is that we are trying to construct a democracy without using some of the essential elements. To make a real democracy, there must be surrender, compromise and service by everybody. That condition does not exist under our government now, and never has existed, for we have, as we do have, large bodies of men who have and use the power or the money to influence and hold for selfish purposes, to a large extent, the destinies of our nations, either through the government or in spite of it.

"With the course of conditions on the part of labor and capital towards each other, and of both towards the general public almost unrestricted and not corrected for more than a century, is it to be wondered at that babies are left to hunger and cry for milk while drivers get their wages fixed?

"Is it to be wondered at that the police of Boston have joined themselves to an organization that, if history repeats itself, must necessarily lead to a divided allegiance?

"These things have not come to us through secret or hidden influences, but through influences that have been open and obvious for nearly a century, and should not occasion surprise."

"JEANNE D'ARC" OF BOSTON STRIKE OF ACTORS

Kathleen Carroll, the seventeen-year-old chorus girl who started the strike among actors playing in Boston houses, declares she will stay out until the strikers get their demands.

Larger issues of the actors' strike are involved, overshadowed in Boston, at least, by the question of what really happened to Kathleen Carroll, the seventeen-year-old chorus girl, who started the strike.

In an interview, Colonel Henry W. Savage stated that Miss Carroll was "kidnaped" into striking.

Members of the strikers' organization claim the manager rushed out and hired her as the Jeanne D'Arc of their movement.

Miss Carroll, who, better than anyone else, ought to know what happened, describes it this way:

"I walked out of 'See-Saw' because the papers which were served on the holders of Equity contracts could not be served on me because I will not be eighteen until the 27th of this month. I went to Mr. Savage and told him that I was going out. He had been a really true friend to me and to the other girls in the show. He tried to argue with me, and walked out of the alleyway with me.

"Opposite the Touraine we met a policeman, and Mr. Savage asked the officer to arrest me. The officer asked what for, and Mr. Savage told him I was walking out of 'See-Saw.' The police said that was none of his affair, so I just kept right on walking.

"Of course, when the stage hands found that the company was shy a member they refused to work, and 'See-Saw' closed. And now, having started the strike, I'm going to stay out until we get what we want."

WILL HELP TUBERCULAR MIDDLE-CLASS PATIENTS

Tubercular patients of moderate means will be cared for in the Central New England Sanatorium now building at Rutland. This class, according to Dr. Henry A. Christian of the Harvard Medical School and physician-in-chief of Peter Bent Brigham Hospital, is less well provided for than the very poor.

"The salary-earning class, while unable to pay large fees, is willing and able to pay moderately for treatment, but often offers low resistance to disease," said Dr. Christian. "Tuberculosis is the chief cause of disability for these people, and adequate care means relative cure and return to activity."

ENGLAND THE CHIEF OPPONENT.

At the outbreak of the World War it was conceded in the higher circles of Germany and Scandinavia that England would never enter the conflict. In time went on and Britain entered the struggle, Admiral von Tirpitz tried to impress it upon the High Command that England must first be beaten. This advice was not heeded, as will be seen in the memoirs of the old grand admiral starting next Monday in the Boston American. A plan of attack along the whole line was adopted—and the Germans were stopped at the Marne. These memoirs, written by a worthy boston man, reveal the attitude of his kind, today, in Germany.

FORK THROWN BY WIFE CUT ARM, IS CLAIMED

South Weymouth Man, for This and Other Things, Seeks Divorce

Charging that his wife harpooned him with a two-pronged fork, bombarded him with various missiles, and otherwise maltreated him, Louis M. Gay of South Weymouth took the stand today at Dedham in his suit for divorce from Tirzah S. Gay.

The case was the first to come up in the January session of the Norfolk Superior Court, which opened today before Judge Thayer, and Gay was the first witness. He charges cruel and abusive treatment, while his wife makes a cross libel with similar charges, together with that of non-support. Both cases were being tried at the same time.

SAYS SIM WAS GOOD.

Mr. Gay testified that he was married December 24, 1891, at Weymouth, to his present wife, and that there were four children by the marriage. Two of them are living. In explaining the reasons which he claimed led to his leaving his wife in February of last year, the witness testified that one evening at the dinner table, for this or a two-pronged fork at him, the fork penetrating the flesh of his left arm. The witness said that he took the fork from his arm and started to leave the table, when his wife heaped vile epithets upon him, concluding by ordering him to "pack his duds and get out."

Prior to that time, said the witness, Mrs. Gay had thrown a stick of wood, a stove poker and a mirror at him. To other occasions, he testified, the woman he had sworn to love and cherish had jammed his hat down over his eyes, spoiled his tie, pulled his hair and choked him.

LETTER REPUDIATED.

He added that Mrs. Gay acted "like a wild animal" at times, and that her temper was "vile." The accused weighs about 190 pounds, while her husband tips the scale at 145.

Under cross examination by Attorney William J. Holbrook the witness denied writing five letters which Mrs. Gay had declared that his wife avers them to herself. He denied that he had written Mrs. Gay that she was blind, but that he was denying talking with her over the telephone on two occasions. Mr. Gay admitted attempting to meeting his wife in the woods, but said that his daughter was with her, and that he had not expected Mrs. Gay to be there.

Americans Who Visit Paris Will Pay $100 a Day for Privilege

By International News Service.

Paris, Sept. 3.—Any American who is figuring on visiting Paris soon and expects to put up at the best hotels, eat at the most fashionable restaurants and visit the first-class theatres, can count on spending $100 a day for each member of his party.

If the American tourist should put up at a second class hotel and eat in second and third class restaurants he might get along on $20 a day, but this allows no margin for presents, theatre tickets, automobile trips and so on. A big influx of Americans is expected after October 1 when the American State Department will begin issuing passports in large numbers.

The prevailing high prices in Paris are charged in the face of the fact that is being made to reduce the cost of living. It is claimed that the government has brought about a 40 per cent decrease by taking control of cereals, potatoes, etc., which is barely perceptible. It is still costing about 50c per cent more to live in Paris today than it did in 1914. For the rest of the country the increase is only slightly less.

Restaurant prices are still on the up grade. It was hoped that, when the Allied Food Commission and Inter-Allied Force had cleared Brest for New York, restaurant men would make drastic price cuts, but this has happened. In anticipation of the expected rush of American tourists restaurant prices are pushed up. The American bars, and are carrying the cost over to the food prices.

No occasion does the restaurant charges become that the newspapers led by the intransigeant, have been denouncing by name some of the eating places of the first and second class, the hotel and eat in second and third class restaurants. He must get along on $20 a day, but this allows no margin for presents, theatre tickets, automobile trips and so on. "The tip was wrongly added in," said Mr. Dallin, "for I should never read the brandy at all. The Americans have gone home after placing their money in circulation and we may to see them will not fail to take the hint. The American Legion, the French people, as a whole, deserve a better reputation than the one we have given them, and they have paid for it in repeated visits."

Restaurants have been similarly treated, not only for excessive prices, but for failing to mark the price on the menu, as the law in France has required by law. The better class places are charging $1 for a cup of coffee, and the height of the fruit season it was no uncommon experience to pay 75 cents apiece for cherries.

Providence, Sept. 3.—Released on bail after a special arraignment in which he was charged with stealing the automobile, Edwin P. Wilson also said bride, formerly Gladys Nason of Brookline, Mass., left police headquarters today to return to Boston.

Wilson was held in $2,000 for the grand jury, which meets in November. Bail was quickly produced through his attorney, Thomas F. Hoar. Examination was waived.

$100,000 PEARLS OF ANNA HELD ARE SOLD

Bought for $52,000 at Auction Sale of Actress' Personal Estate

New York, Sept. 3.—Anna Held's famous $100,000 pearl necklace was sold for $52,000 to Charles Roberts of No. 1401 Broadway, at an exhibition and sale of her jewels, costumes and personal effects, held in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

The necklace startled theatregoers when Miss Held appeared in a Broadway production more than ten years ago. It has forty-three pearls and is sixteen inches long. The bidding started at $50,000.

Others of the actress' jewels were sold today by Thomas Henry Keough, Miss Held's attorney, at No. 52 Broadway.

Close friends and admirers of the comedienne vied in bidding for Miss Held's personal effects, which they desired to keep as mementoes. Diane Ellaros, another actress friend, was one of the largest buyers, purchasing all her mother's lingerie and her scrap book.

Included in the sale were seventy hats, five colorful stage gowns and a pair of silk stockings. The stockings, the lowest sale was ten cents for a little lace handkerchief and the highest sale, outside of jewelry, was $400 for several gowns and other belongings.

More than $1,000 worth of personal effects were disposed of. The sale probably will last four days.

The jewelry itself is appraised at $150,000. It is expected the bids will exceed that amount. The entire sale is in personal charge of Charles Hanson, close friend and executor of Miss Held.

Many who bought loved Anna Held almost as their own, and tears were much in evidence as each bought a little keepsake.

GIRLS ARE READY FOR TITLE SWIM

American's Annual Championship Race Will Be Held in Basin Saturday

Unusual interest is manifested in the big water carnival of the Boston American which is to be held in the Charles River Basin Saturday afternoon. The affair was to be held last Saturday, but was postponed on account of the inclement weather. The large number of entries for the race, a distance of one and one-half miles and 200 feet, indicates that it will be a great success.

Sanctioned as it is by the New England Amateur Athletic Association, the race will bring together some of the best swimmers in this part of the country. Five handsome prizes will be awarded the first five winners, and every girl who finishes will receive an engraved certificate. The winner of the first prize will also be adjudged champion girl swimmer of New England. Every girl who participates in the race will be a member of the Boston American Swimming Club.

DIRECTIONS TO COURSE.

From all sections of the State letters are pouring in to the Swimming Editor asking for information regarding the best way to reach the scene of race. For the guidance of such persons the American calls attention to the fact that the easiest way to get there is to go to the Boston end of either the West Boston or Harvard bridges and walk to the quarters of the Union Boat Club along the Boston esplanade. Another way is to go to the corner of Beacon and Charles streets and walk down the latter thoroughfare to River street, which leads to the water front.

During the race there will be diving exhibitions by Alice Eldredge of Charlestown, Mildred Townley of South Boston and Dorothy Fuller of Revere. John J. ("Maffin") Flaherty, Revere lifeguard, will show how to save life, assisted by corps No. 35 of the Revere Beach Life-Saving Station, comprising the following:

PURE TO SPECTATORS.

Ample opportunity to see the race and other events is afforded along the Boston Esplanade, from the Union Boat Clubhouse to the Harvard Bridge. The course of the race is from the Metropolitan Park Commission boat opposite the boathouse, up stream to a stakeboat close to the latter bridge, where the contestants will make the turn to come down stream to the starting point. It is estimated that 50,000 persons can see everything that goes on without crowding.

Superintendent West of the Metropolitan Park Commission Police has assigned Lieutenants Thomas and Breivogel to look after the necessary arrangements for the handling of the large crowds expected. The swift launches of the basin police will be used to look after the safety of the swimmers. In addition several motor boats and other craft will be manned by life guards who will trail the contestants and render assistance.

NO COACHING ALLOWED.

No coaching from boats will be allowed; and any contestant that is coached from a boat during the race will be disqualified by the judges. The start of the race will be by pistol shot.

Everybody is invited to see the race, which is absolutely free. The races of the New England Amateur Athletic Association will be held at the same place after the Boston American events. These are also free to the public.

Miss Esther Miron of Webster, winner of last year's contest, is among the 237 contestants for the major prize this year. She declares she will break last year's record of fifty-eight minutes and two-fifths seconds.

SPENCER SPEAKS IN CAMBRIDGE TONIGHT

Missouri Senator May Discuss Wilson's Tour and Fight Against Treaty

United States Senator Selden Palmer Spencer of Missouri, one of the stormy petrels in the League of Nations controversy, will be the principal speaker at the meeting of the Republican Presidential Club of Cambridge tonight. The meeting will be in Odd Fellows' Hall, Central square, Cambridgeport.

The Missouri legislator is a delegate to the annual meeting of the American Bar Association here. It is expected that he may give some indication as to his attitude toward President Wilson's threatened invasion of Missouri in the interests of the league.

He became a national figure when he overcame the Democratic majority in the last election. To do this he had to defeat Joseph W. Folk, one of the most popular Democrats in the Middle West. Spencer friends ascribe his victory to the hostility of the people in his State to President Wilson's foreign policy. Russell A. Wood will preside tonight.

TO ISSUE ROAD REPORTS FOR AUTOISTS

Weather Bureau Plans Daily Service to Tell Conditions All Over New England

Daily reports on the condition of highways in all parts of New England will soon be issued by the Boston Weather Bureau. Arrangements for this new service, which is expected to be of great value to farmers and motorists, were being completed today.

From each of its 150 representatives in this section of the country the bureau will receive every twenty-four hours a statement about the roads in that particular district. Roads will be classified as "good," "passable," "bad" or "impassable." The information will be available at the weather bureau.

A complete chart of New England highways will also be posted at some point in the city, possibly in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce. An executive of the weather bureau will post road conditions on this chart daily by means of multicolor flags similar to those now used in storm warnings. Motorists in planning a trip will thus have exact data about highways, and by consulting the chart be able to map out their routes so as to avoid delay and inconvenience caused by bad roads.

Cape Cod highways will be the first to be charted by the weather bureau. Then the entire state is expected to be in operation within three weeks and in time to have the automobile parties who make motor tours along the cape in the fall. The White Mountain District will then be taken up and it is believed that before the first snow flies the weather department will be ready to furnish accurate information about any road in New England.

REPORTS BY PHONE.

Farmers will be notified of bad roads in the same manner that they are now warned of an approaching cold wave. The report will be given to local telephone operators who will disseminate it along the rural lines.

Road forecasts as weather forecasts are now made, will probably be issued during Winter and Spring months. From existing road and climatic conditions, a forecast may be made for 48 hours as to whether roads are to be passable, slippery or muddy.

The highway weather service has been tested in a few Middle West districts of the United States with satisfactory results.

ASK MR. FIXIT

Mr. Fixit: I have a 1916 Overland Model 75. A with fixie magneto ignition and have two bad cylinders counting from point to the magneto and reckoned and the car starts off with the first turn of the self-starter, but after running five miles or so it heats up so that the small grade when you give it the least bit of extra gas the radiator boils. I have been over the thing and find it O. K. and carburetor is adjusted properly. What would you suggest? L. W. Dowden, Lowell.

While you have said that the timing is O. K. your trouble still sounds like a little spark and a very late one at that. This, of course, would make the car start very easily with the self-starter and would heat up the motor very easily, especially under load. If your radiator seemed dirty when you drained it, would suggest that you put a solution of washing soda—about a pound to a gallon—and running the motor until the water has circulated thoroughly and had a chance to wash out the dirt and then drain off the water and refill.

There are markings on your fly-wheel to tell you the timing of your valves, etc., and would advise that if you are not thoroughly familiar with setting a magneto, you take the car to the local dealer and have it timed. It is pretty hard to determine the "break" of a magneto, but with a buzzer, coil or retarded, this is usually set to break when the flywheel is about three-eighths of an inch past dead centre on the firing stroke. Try cutting down the gas in your mixture, as this may be due to a car to start on the first turn when it is cold. Do not make any adjustments on your carburetor until the motor is warmed up, otherwise you will always be doing so. Ask Fixit.

Dear Mr. Fixit: I am contemplating touring to Canada this Fall on a touring trip. If you please tell me what the customs duties are regarding taking an automobile across the line and back again. Subscriber.

The Customs Department of Canada now permits American automobiles to be temporarily admitted into the Dominion of Canada for a period of thirty days upon simply applying to the collector of the frontier port for a permit. It is no longer necessary to obtain a customs bond if the stay does not exceed thirty days, but the collector may require that the car be described in the permit by the markings thereon. The simplest way is to have the car registered in your name and the obtaining certain bonds which are necessary and this will save you all annoyance at the border.

Dear Mr. Fixit: Would it be possible for you to let me know the distance to be made at the present time going from Providence, R. I., to Mendon, Milford, Worcester, Keene, N. H., Bellows Falls, Vt., Montpelier, Burlington, Vt., M. E. Prudence.

Your letter came while Mr. Fixit was on his vacation. It has been impossible for him to get you this information, but he understands that the roads are in pretty good shape over the route you mention and that there are no long detours, but this information cannot be given as absolutely accurate.

Dear Mr. Fixit: I am going to Maine in my car. How long can I stay in the State without taking out a license? A. J., Manchester.

You are exempt for thirty days provided you are registered in your own State.

Mr. Fixit: When I stop my motor I notice that the gasoline leaks very profusely from the carburetor. What causes it? I have been shutting off the gas each time to stop it. J. D. Haverhill.

It is probably due to dirt on the float valve or its seat which prevents the valve from seating properly. Try to rotate the valve on its seat. If it is very dirty you can grind it in with valve-grinding mixture.

ECONOMY RUN RECORD FOR TEMPLAR

New Car Consumes Only Sixteen Gallons of Gasoline in 377 Miles

Frederick J. Caldwell has just received news from San Francisco that his new car, the Templar, made a record for itself in the recent economy run from Los Angeles to Camp Curry that is probably dominant in the cars of its class.

"The Templar is new to California," said Mr. Caldwell discussing the event, "and it certainly proved its ability in fine style by its performance on this trip of 376.8-10 miles. The car, which was in the $2,000 and over class, was loaded to 3,570 pounds. Its gasoline consumption was a fraction over sixteen gallons, averaging twenty-three miles per gallon while two pints of oil were used. It came through with a record of forty-one ten miles average.

"These results were obtained over untried roadways, and without carburetor adjustment. The figures are proof of its worth as a touring and outing car.

"Combined with this great ability, one will find in the Templar the beauty of line, excellence of finish and easy-riding qualities heretofore found only in larger and more expensive cars."

The new Templar sedan model is now in Boston. I believe that it will be accorded a rousing reception, after the motor-car folk see it and examine its attractive features."

CUT LEXINGTON CAR SERVICE IN HALF

Lexington, Sept. 3.—The residents of this town are disgruntled over the new schedule just put into effect on the Lexington division of the Middlesex and Boston Street Railway, for it cuts the service in half. On the main line, between here and Arlington Heights, cars will now operate every half hour instead of every fifteen minutes. Cars will make hourly trips to Concord and Lowell, and the same to Waltham, except during the middle of the day, when half-hourly running time will be given to Waltham. The last car at night on the main line, with the exception of Saturday night, will leave fifteen minutes earlier.

TRIED TO BAR LAWYER FROM COURTS-MARTIAL

Washington, Sept. 3.—Excessive punishments were meted out by courts-martial in the A. E. F., W. B. Thomas, a lawyer of Minneapolis, who served as a private in the A. E. F. told the Senate sub-committee investigating proposed changes in the military laws.

Thomas declared that officers had tried to prevent him from acting as counsel for his comrades in courts-martial.

TAX RATE ADVANCES $8.50 IN WEST BOYLSTON

West Boylston, Sept. 3.—The tax rate in West Boylston for the coming year will be $18.80, according to Chairman Harry E. Lowe of the assessors. The rate for last year was $10.30, making an increase this year of $8.50.

Prince Was Pleased By Willys-Knight Efficiency

"The popularity of the Willys-Knight motor cars was heightened recently when it was favorably commented on by the Prince of Wales during his trip through Canada," said Weldon McKone of the Connell-McKone Company, local Overland and Willys-Knight distributors.

"The car in which the Prince of Wales was driven during his whole stay in St. John, and the first car in which he has driven in canada, was a Willys-Knight open car. It was driven by George W. Parlee, manager of the Veteran Taxi Service Company. As the Prince stepped from his car at the wharf, preparatory to re-embarking, he shook hands with Mr. Parlee and complimented him on his careful driving. He then presented him with a handsome pair of gold cuff links, with the Prince of Wales feathers inscribed on one link and a large "E" surmounted by a crown on the other.

"Mr. Parlee said that the Prince was very interested in the car and asked many questions about the engine, etc., and also wanted to know how fast it could go. This, the driver proceeded to demonstrate with the result that, without recourse to recklessness, he gave the royal visitor a merry burst of speed."

RICKENBACKER TO FLY OVER PACIFIC

Greatest American Ace Enters Contest for Ince Aviation Prize of $50,000

Venice, Cal., Sept. 3.—Captain Eddie Rickenbacker, America's Ace of Aces, intends to make an attempt to cross the Pacific Ocean in competition for the Ince prize of $50,000. If he can get a machine of his own design, according to a statement published by Thomas H. Ince.

"Ever since learning of your generous offer of $50,000 for the first aviator to cross the Pacific, I have been greatly interested in the proposed contest, as I consider it the greatest encouragement to aviation that has been offered. Since you made to the cause of aeronautics" said Rickenbacker in a telegram to Mr. Ince.

WANTS SPECIAL PLANE.

"One purpose I have in mind is the selection and construction of an airplane built according to my specifications, with which I might hope to win the honor of being the first man to accomplish the feat of crossing the Pacific.

"Most Certainly I shall be a contestant if I am able to procure the plane I have in mind—and I believe I shall be able to do so. It shall embody the improvements suggested by my past experiences in flying. The flight across the Pacific, although of longer stretch than that of the Atlantic, should offer no greater difficulty, and I am confident that another laurel will be added to the wreath of the aerial pioneers."

If Captain Rickenbacker is able to get into the race, it will be his first time "in action" since his heroic battles with the Boche airmen in France.

MUST BE FLOWN IN 12 DAYS.

Licensed aviators of any nationality may compete in the proposed transPacific flight, which has been endorsed by the Aero Club of America, and which will be conducted by its Western auxiliary, the Pacific Aero Club. The contest will be open from September, 1919, to January, 1920. The flight must be completed within twelve days.

If the flight across the Pacific is not completed, according to Mr. Ince's terms, the aviator reaching the Hawaiian Islands in the shortest time is to receive $10,000, if no contestant is reached in the Islands. Should the aviator who flies the longest distance in that direction is to receive $5,000.

The Venice-to-Asia venture should from now on prove the greatest attraction for men who court adventure and who from hardships operate as an added incentive and inspiration.

BAY STATE MEN ARE AWAITING DECISION

Arbitration Board as Yet Has Made No Statement in Strike Controversy

No change has resulted in the status of the Bay State road's labor troubles and the Board of Conciliation and Arbitration has not yet arrived at a decision relative to the situation.

The company's public trustees declined to come before the board on the grounds that the War Labor Board granted an increase of 13 per cent. and that this was accepted by the company and the employes to continue until May, 1920.

"MOTALARM" WARNS OF ENGINE TROUBLE

Many devices have been put on the market to tell the driver when trouble is brewing in his engine and one of the latest is the Motalarm, just being introduced by Farley & MacNeill. This little device operates only when the radiator is becoming inefficient. When the water gets low, steam naturally forms and this steam blows the whistle, which gives the strong note of the siren. As Mr. MacNeill said in speaking of this little device: "Motalarm's warning sound is heard above the loudest motor noises or the most violent storm. It is day and night alarm. You hear it and you don't have to watch it.

"Another thing about Motalarm is that it is operated by the steam only, not an overheated radiator cap. Outside weather conditions have no effect on it. It also makes a very handsome radiator ornament."

ENGLAND THE CHIEF OPPONENT.

At the outbreak of the World War it was conceded in the higher circles of German officialdom that England would never enter the conflict. As time went on and Britain entered the struggle, Admiral von Tirpitz tried to impress it upon the High Command that England must first be beaten. This advice was not heeded, as will be seen in the memoirs of the old grand admiral starting next Monday in the Boston American. A plan of attack along the whole line was adopted—and the Germans were stopped at the Marne. These memoirs, written by a terribly beaten man, reveal the attitude of his kind, today, in Germany.

TOURING MORE POPULAR THIS YEAR THAN EVER

F. S. McNeil and F. W. Manning, proprietors of the Hub Vulcanic and Tire Company have been identified with the tire business for many years and in fact started one of the pioneer vulcanizing shops in Boston. They are consequently in a position to know something about the touring activities of motorists and believe that there has been far more touring this season than ever before. This is evidenced by the fact that their business has increased amazingly since the season opened and they expect to continue far into the Fall at the present pace.

MIRROR AND SPOTLIGHT LAW EFFECTIVE TODAY

Beginning today a new automobile law relative to mirrors and spotlights takes effect. It was approved June 4, 1919, and is as follows:

"Section 1. No person shall operate upon any way in this Commonwealth, as defined in section one of chapter five hundred and thirty-four of the acts of nineteen hundred and nine, and in the amendments thereof, any taxi-cab, commercial motor vehicle or motor truck, so constructed, equipped or loaded that the driver or operator is prevented from having a constantly free and unobstructed view of the highway immediately in the rear, unless there is attached to the vehicle a mirror or reflector so placed and adjusted as to afford the operator a clear, reflected view of the highway in the rear of the vehicle.

"Section 2. There shall not be used on or in connection with any motor vehicle a spot light, so-called, the rays from which shine more than two feet above the road at a distance of thirty feet from the vehicle, except that such a spot light may be used for the purpose of reading signs, and as an auxiliary light in cases of necessity when the other lights required by law fail to operate.

"Section 3. Violation of this act shall be punished by a fine of not less than twenty or more than one hundred dollars."

TRIP OF WILSON ENVOY TO PARIS COST $150,000

Congress Gets More Light on Peace Expenditures From President's Fund

Washington, Sept. 3—More light was thrown on the character of the expenses of the American delegates to the Paris Peace Conference in President Wilson's report to Congress on the expenditures under his $50,000,000 "National Security and Defense" fund for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1919.

The trip to Paris last February of one of the President's representatives, for instance, cost the government $150,000, according to the report. Five other allotments for Peace Conference work are outlined in the report, ranging from $20,000 to $500,000, bring the total expended from the President's personal fund for negotiating peace up to $1,670,000.

The latter allotments were:

November 25, to the State Department for preparation for the Peace Conference, $100,000.

November 30, to the State Department for political intelligence service at Peace Conference, $50,000.

December 2, to the War Department for the expenses of General Churchill and party at the Peace Conference, $20,000. General Churchill is chief of the Military Intelligence Bureau.

COMMISSION'S EXPENSES.

December 18, to the State Department for the American Commission to negotiate peace, $500,000.

February 15, for expenses of the Peace Conference, $750,000.

In his request to Congress last week for a deficiency appropriation of $325,000 to cover expenses incurred in the peace negotiations, the President showed the expenditures for this purpose had amounted to about $2,000,000. It was not made clear in his report whether the items now mentioned were included in the previous total or are additional to that figure.

The House Appropriations Committee will go into this phase of the matter when it calls witnesses to give details of the expenditures.

The President's report reached the Capitol a few hours after the House had received a favorable report from the Appropriations Committee on a resolution by Representative Gould, of New York, asking the Chief Executive for an itemized statement showing the expenditures under both the President's personal funds of $1,670,000 for the fiscal year of 1919 and the $50,000,000 fund for 1919. Only a partial report has been submitted on the $100,000,000 fund. This was received last December.

MOTHER AND CHILDREN GRATEFUL

In East Boston, Mass., at 23 Lamson Street, a contented family of three children and the mother live, daily thanking in silence the kind neighbor who helped them when they were sick. Mrs. Nellie Woodford is the mother and she writes the following letter to Dr. J. F. True & Co.: "Having heard about your medicine from my neighbors and druggist, I wondered if your Dr. True's Elixir wasn't what I needed. I am a hard-working woman, working six hours every day for the Penn Realty Trust Company in Boston. In doing this work I use a lot of strength. Besides this looking after my house and the care of my three children wore me out.

"I guess my nerves got out of kilt first. I worried a lot, and seemed to get tired easy. I lost my appetite, I was overtaken with dizzy spells, my eyes got blurred, and I soon found I had to stay home from work. I didn't do any housework, but the rest didn't do any good.

"I always had one special doctor for myself and the children, but he was out of town when I was sick. I took medicine from the druggist which my friends brought in, but nothing did any good. My bowels were out of order. My breath bad, and I was shaky all over. Worst of all the terrible headaches came. It seemed I had suffered years before your Dr. True's Elixir was brought into me by a neighbor.

"After a short time I began to cheer up and be myself again. My bowels were soon in order and I noticed that the spells had left me. I think your Elixir wonderful. I am working every day now getting stronger and picking up my appetite. I feel full of gratitude toward Dr. True's Elixir.

"The children sometimes eat things which don't agree with them, when I am not around to see, and then cramps and constipation follow. It just get out my bottle of Dr. True's Elixir and find no trouble in getting them to take some. It is easy to take. Their bowels are soon all right. It may interest you to know that recently my youngest child was terribly sick and it was a question with us all how to get your Elixir to thank for relieving her of stomach worms. When I gave it to

Signs of worms are: Constipation hardened full belly, swollen upper lip sour stomach, offensive breath, and occasional pains, pale face of leaden tint, eyes heavy and dull, twitching eyelids, itching of the nostrils, and short dry coughs, grinding of the teeth, little red points sticking out on the tongue, starting during sleep, slow fever. If your children show any of these symptoms, start giving Dr. True's Elixir. The Family Laxative and Worm Expeller at once. It has done wonders for children and grownups since 1854. AT ALL DEALERS.

HELD IN $20,000 FOR ROXBURY HOLDUP

Chauffeur Identifies Riley as Robber Who Took $13,000 From Bank Messenger

John J. Riley was today held in $20,000 for the Grand Jury, charged with robbery of more than $13,000 from Harrison S. Gurney, messenger of the Fidelity Trust Company in Roxbury on August 25. Riley appeared before Judge Hayden in the Roxbury Court on a continued hearing. Unable to get bail, he was committed to the Charles street jail.

Gurney, the messenger robbed, a trunk of eighteen, and Nicholas J. Volpe, the chauffeur of the taxicab in which Gurney was held up, both testified. Volpe positively identified Riley, whom he said he had known for three years. Gurney declared that the prisoner "looked like" the man who robbed him.

Under cross-examination, asked if he was positive as to the identification, he said: "If he had a twin brother, I should say this was the man."

Gurney testified that he had been employed by the Fidelity Trust Company about one month, and that he had previously been employed by another banking concern for four months.

Both he and Volpe described the hold-up. Their story was that the car had just left the offices of the General Baking Company, when three men leaped upon the running board, covered them with revolvers and told the chauffeur to keep going; that a little further on Riley boarded the car and took the money from Gurney; that they put Gurney out of the car on Massachusetts avenue and Volpe on Norfolk avenue, after which Riley took the wheel and drove away. Volpe testified that Riley said to him: "You murmur about this and I'll kill you." Gurney testified that he was struck. He said that Riley had no gun.

Pearl F. Messenger, cashier at the Grocers' Baking Company, No. 65 East Cottage street, Roxbury, testified to delivering to Gurney on the morning of the robbery the company's deposit, amounting to $1,834 in cash and $212 in checks. Angie C. Bennett, cashier at the General Baking Company, testified to delivering $7,881 in cash and $5,595 in checks.

Says Soldier Son's Insurance Is Unpaid

Complaints over the non-payment of compensation allowances are still pouring into the office of the War Risk Insurance Department. How he not only has failed to receive insurance money since the death of his son, but lost $100 in attempting to send money to the boy through an American bank in France, was told today at army headquarters by a bereaved father.

"My son was killed a short time before I sent him $100," said the man, who desired his name withheld. "This was deposited at an American banking house in Paris, and all trace of this money the other day and had it returned to me in France, but about $150 out of the amount I sent.

"It is almost impossible to get any information about allowances or allotments. My son has been dead some time, and I have never had a word of insurance and cannot get any light upon the matter."

30 YEARS IN CITY JOB WITHOUT PAY INCREASE

That men have been working for the city of Boston for thirty years without an increase in wages during that period was brought out today when a committee called on Mayor Peters and requested an increase of 40 per cent, for 500 clerks and stenographers. One employee has worked more than ten years for the city without increase in pay.

The delegation that visited the Mayor represented the Municipal Clerks' Union, recently organized. It was headed by James J. Nolan. They asked that the 40 per cent. increase become effective as of September 1. If the Mayor grants the request, it will mean an addition of $125,000 to the payroll for the remainder of the year and $300,000 annually thereafter. Employes drawing from $400 to $3,800 a year are involved in the request.

It was pointed out by the committee that many men have been promoted to responsible positions without having their salaries increased.

CHARGE PUBLIC DECEIVED BY HAINES

Medford Alderman Fails to Gain Passage of Resolution Against Mayor

Charging Mayor Benjamin F. Haines of Medford with "making false statements to the press of sending scurrilous letters to the Board of Aldermen and of otherwise using unfair means and tactics to deceive the public," a resolution was placed before a meeting of the board of Aldermen of Medford by Alderman Gustavus W. Sewall. After a lengthy discussion the resolution was tabled until the next meeting, August 19. The resolution follows:

"Whereas, His Honor, the Mayor of this city is constantly sending to this Board of Aldermen scurrilous letters and communications, and whereas he has been, and is making misleading statements through the press and otherwise, by direct and indirect methods,

"Therefore, be it resolved, that we deplore the fact that it has become necessary for a man holding the honorable position of mayor of this city to descend to such unfair tactics in order to keep the public from learning the truths, and seeing and talking with his own shortcomings in public utterances."

Following the reading, Alderman Lowell moved the passage of the resolution, but Alderman J. H. Moore moved the move and had the paper laid over until the next meeting.

Mayor Haines, when informed of what took place said:

"It is pretty early in the game to begin playing politics. I haven't begun to read them letters yet. If they think the letters which I have sent are rambling, just wait till I begin to really send them a few."

The matter will not be officially brought to the Mayor's attention until after the next meeting of the aldermen.

Truck Backs Into Blue Hill Avenue Electric in Roxbury

Twelve persons were injured, one of them seriously, when a heavy auto truck backed into the centre of a Blue Hill avenue prepayment car in front of No. 1st Dudley street, Roxbury, today. Traffic was delayed for an hour.

Herbert L. Lyons of No. 3 Erwin avenue, Roxbury, a passenger on the car, was taken to City Hospital for treatment for severe cuts and bruises. Seven other passengers reported slight injuries.

SCORES WILSON FOR LEAVING IN CRISIS

Washington, Sept. 3—President Wilson was vigorously assailed by Representative Rodenberg, Republican, of Illinois, in the House, for starting out on a "political tour" while the government is confronted with critical domestic problems to aid in solving which he urged the House to forego its contemplated recess and remain in session.

Rodenberg was speaking in behalf of his resolution calling on the President to postpone his trip until Congress had passed the legislation to carry out his program for the reduction of the high cost of living.

To Discard Freckles, Tan, Pimples, Blotches

The use of cream containing animal grease, tallow, lanolin, hair, or grease can run no risk of acquiring superfluous hair, when one or ordinary necessities. Mercolized wax is nothing other than a dissolved skin, as the wax actually absorbs the affected skin gradually, gently, so there is no distinction evident and no inconvenience. The affected complexion naturally is replaced by a clear, smooth, healthy skin, free of all blemish expression. Do the sensible way: to get rid of a freckled, tanned, over-red, blotchy or pimpled skin: Just procure an ounce of mercolized wax at any druggist's and apply nightly like cold cream, rinsing in the morning with soap and water. It takes a week or so to complete the transformation.

COOLIDGE SEES PROMISE IN LOYALTY

Speaks at Celebration and Refers to Shay's Rebellion as a Lesson for Future

Westfield, Sept. 3.—The great promise of the future lies in the loyalty and devotion of the people to their own government, Governor Coolidge told a large audience today during the observance of the 150th anniversary of the town.

Today's observance combined the Welcome-Home celebration and the dedication of the Major-General William Shepard monument, at which other speakers scheduled were Major-General Clarence R. Edwards, Senator David I. Walsh and former Governor Samuel W. McCall.

Community day festivities took place in the morning, while the afternoon was devoted to a military parade, dedication of the statue and welcome to the returned soldiers. In the evening band concerts and community dancing in Park square will take place.

Governor Coolidge spoke at some length of the history of Westfield and of General Shepard. He described Shay's Rebellion, and quoted Samuel Adams on the question of pardoning the convicted leaders. On this occasion Adams said that in monarchies the crime of treason might be lightly punished, but the man who "dares to rebel against the laws of a republic ought to suffer death."

Governor Coolidge said the people were glad mercy was shown at that time, but that the calm judgment of Samuel Adams need not go unheeded now.

"Success has attended the establishment here of a government of the people," said the Governor. "We of this day have just finished a victorious war that has added new glory to American arms. We are feeling hardships, but they are not serious. Private obligations are not so large as to be burdensome. Taxes can be paid. Prosperity abounds. But the great promise of the future lies in the loyalty and devotion of the people to their own government. They are firm in the conviction of the fathers that liberty is increased only by increasing the determination to support a government of the people, as established in this ancient town and defended by its patriotic sons."

DUFFY HELD IN $1,000 BOND AT PORTSMOUTH

Miss Healy, Known as Wife No. 2, Must Also Answer to Supreme Court

Portsmouth, N. H., Sept. 3.—Testimony in the continued cases of William J. Duffy and Miss Helen Healy, both of this place, charged with improper conduct, with a possible bigamy charge against Duffy in New York, and charge that he had already married Miss Julia Mullane, also of this city, brought out that while he was marrying the Mullane girl he had previously engaged himself to the Healy girl, who awaited him at her home.

Duffy married Miss Healy in New York on June 12. The hearing today was continued from August 22. Duffy was represented by Attorney Ziegler of Boston and Albert H. Hatch of this city.

The chief witness today was the former Miss Mullane, who testified that she was married to Duffy on February 15, 1919, at Kittery, Me., by Judge Aaron H. Cole. Other witnesses were her sisters, Mrs. William Lorenz and Mrs. Earl Felter, both of Portsmouth, who testified that they witnessed the ceremony with several other witnesses.

Mrs. Catharine Ahearn, a lodging house proprietor of State street, testified that Duffy with wife No. 2, had been at her house five weeks previous to their marriage on August 22.

Attorney Hatch maintained that the testimony of Mrs. Ahearn was not sufficient to hold the two principals on the statutory charge, but Judge Cupril decided otherwise. He also refused further continuance to await the decision of the Supreme Court of York County in the matter of the annulment of the marriage. Duffy was held in $1,000 and Miss Healy in $500 to await the sitting of the Supreme Court of Rockingham County, at Exeter, in October.

What's stylish for fall?

JUST about one year ago, the stylish thing with young men was "olive drab;" the "Navy blue;" a drive at "Fritz;" a shot at a "sub."

Now "the boys" are back in civil life; they want all the good style they can get; we have it for them; here's information about the newest ideas for fall.

Belted suits are here in new designs and variations.

Yokes, plaits, slanting, vertical, and crescent pockets are all lively touches.

Double-breasted suits are the favorites; in one-, two-, and three-button models; some with belts; some without belts.

Coats are a little longer; waists are a little higher; natural shoulders, higher and wider lapels, giving the wiry, deep-lunged, athletic look that the young men want.

Now about price and quality; all clothes cost good money; you'd better be sure to get quality equal to the price. You can get it in our clothes; all-wool, careful tailoring; guaranteed to satisfy—money back if they don't.

ALLIES DEFIED BY PREMIER OF HUNGARY

Friedrich Says He Will Stay in Power Until After General Election

Exclusive Cable to the International News Service and the London Daily Express.

Budapest, Sept. 3.—Premier Stephen Friedrich declared today that he would remain in power until the Hungarian general election, despite any wishes of the entente to the contrary and the reports that he was ready to retire.

A large section of the Hungarian people is said to be insistent that Premier Friedrich resign because of the opposition to him in Paris.

"I intend to remain in office until the election, for I know a great majority of all parties is behind me, despite the fact that the entente will not recognize me," said Friedrich.

"I merely ask that my government be tolerated until the Hungarians can freely express their wishes. I am quite willing that a deputation of Socialists from all of the allied countries should supervise the Hungarian elections, to see that they are conducted fairly.

"The whole people will demonstrate that those who attack me are mistaken."

Asked if his government policy was anti-Semitic, the Premier answered:

"It is untrue to say that it is; I preserve a perfectly open and liberal mind on Jewish questions."

The Premier then was told that stories of "white terrorism" were being circulated and was asked what measures the government was taking to suppress them. Friedrich replied:

"The government has done everything to prevent the hanging and beating of Bolshevists, but you must remember that the Bolshevists tortured and murdered hundreds of innocent peasants. It is only natural that their relatives want to revenge themselves, but we do the best we can to prevent it."

"Is there any truth in the report that the Rumanians are behind you?" Friedrich was asked. He retorted:

"They are neither behind us nor before us, but are in our midst."

Premier Friedrich then was reminded that the Hungarians do not want a return to the Hapsburgs and asked for his own opinion upon the disposition of the throne. He answered:

"I am willing to carry out to the utmost limit the wishes of the Hungarian people."

Further reports of the beating and massacre of Jews in the provinces have reached Budapest. It is said that many women and children have fled from their homes, hiding in corn fields and forests in fear of their lives. There is evidence that whole families, from the grandmother down to the youngest child, have been wiped out.

Allies Decice Austrians Must Bear Responsibility for Hapsburg Crimes

Paris, Sept. 3.—"The people of Austria cannot escape the responsibility for the deeds of their government. They were its ardent supporters from start to finish, and they must be held to bear their full measure of responsibility for the crimes which has brought such misery on the world."

That is the burden of the reply of the peace conference to Austria's plea that since the Hapsburg empire has been dissolved, and the Austrian republic is but a shadow of the Austro-Hungarian realm, its people ought not to be made to suffer for the defunct dynasty's guilt.

The scathing pen of the "Tiger of France" is seen in the direct tenor of the note and the crushing indictment it reiterates of the Austrian people's support of their government in plotting and unloosening the great war.

The note was made public simultaneously with the presentation to Austria of the final draft, and it appears at length the voluminous Austrian "Observations" on the terms of that document.

Austria is assured, however, that the powers "have no wish to add to the hardships of Austria's position, but, on the contrary, they are anxious to do all in their power to assist her people to accommodate themselves to their new position and to recover their prosperity, provided always it be not at the expense of the new States formed out of the late empire."

The note virtually leaves the future fate of Austria in the hands of the League of Nations, to which she will be admitted as a member at an early date.

JUDGE LORING HOLDS AGAINST MACHINISTS

Judge Loring of the Supreme Court today decided that the bill brought by the National Equipment Company of Springfield against Local Union No. 214 of the National Association of Machinists, also of Springfield, comes within the decision of the United States Supreme Court in the case of the Hitchman Coal and Coke Company against John Mitchell, and overruled a demurrer of the defendants that the bill failed to set out a case either at law or in equity.

Judge Loring held that the decision in the Hichman Coal and Coke Company vs. Mitchell was the law of this commonwealth until the full court should decide otherwise. Under that decision strangers had no right to induce employes to break contracts made with their employers.

Poses As Adam, Clad Only in a Smile and Damp Air

New York, Sept. 3.—An attempt by Karl Kolcyskiora to prove to dwellers on Riverside Drive that clothes are a needless concession to convention landed Karl in the psychopathic ward in Bellevue Hospital, but Karl had a lot of fun.

The apostle of the "back to nature" movement first dawned on the drive at Eichteith street clad in nothing but atmosphere and a sweet smile. Holding an apple aloft in one hand, waving the other like a bird's wing and standing on one foot, he proclaimed to the world:

"I am Adam!" I am Adam!"

The feminine portion of his audience didn't believe him and screamed. The screams brought a policeman, who caught "Adam" after a chase of several blocks, covered him with a rain coat and called a patrol wagon.

Karl said he was fifty-seven years old and had no home.

MAN IN AUTO CRUSHED TO DEATH IN ELEVATOR

After driving an automobile upon an elevator in a garage at No. 1165 Massachusetts avenue, Roxbury, and ascending to the second floor, William Chamberlain, an Edison employe, was crushed to death when the elevator started again.

Nobody can yet explain how the elevator was set in motion. Chamberlain was driving the auto off, and was jammed between the car and the top of the door. He was dead when taken out. He was forty-six years old and lived at No. 64 Cliff avenue, Winthrop Highlands.

SEIZE HOARDED FOOD, URGES EX-GOV. FOSS

Says Coolidge Should Ask Law Compelling Daily Reports on Cold Storage

Conscription of food hoarded in cold storage was advocated today by former Governor Eugene N. Foss.

Speaking in behalf of his candidacy for the governorship before an audience of workmen at the Walworth Manufacturing Company in South Boston, he said: "If the government could conscript our boys for war service, why does not seize food supplies by eminent domain?

"The State has the right to take your house and mine for railroad purposes. How much more important to exercise this right to seize food in an emergency such as we have at the present time.

"This could be done without injustice to the owners of the food. They could have recourse to the courts in case the price agreed on was not considered equitable. There might be a provision in the bill by which they could receive 50, or even 60 per cent of the market value of the food seized, as if it was taken.

"I think Governor Coolidge could properly ask the Legislature to convene and pass legislation requiring the cold storage warehouses to report daily to boards of health as to the quantities in storage. This, at the very least, should be done without delay.

Turning aside from consideration of the food crisis, the former Governor said: "There is no section of this country today where the transportation interests are in such a deplorable condition as here in Boston. No great city in the country has a 10-cent fare but Boston.

"The banker control of these quasi public corporations must be eliminated. The temptation to wreck and reorganize these properties is too great. They must be taken over at a fair valuation by the State, once the water is squeezed out of the stocks.

"I know that a plan can and will be worked out by which the municipality or the State will take over the street railways. This plan will be fair to all concerned."

Back from War, Finds Wife Has Flown to New Nest

New York, Sept. 3.—Robert N. Marshall of Riverside Drive, who was a Red Cross worker in France, is no Enoch Arden, as was evidenced when he filed papers in a divorce action against Mrs. Binty Marshall, his "colleen wife" who is in Ireland.

Marshall was traveling in Ireland in 1919 when he met weed, won and married the pretty colleen. The marriage was solemnized at Castle Connel, County Limerick. Since then two children have been born, Peppy, now six, and Bryan, three years old.

When Marshall went looking for his wife after the war he did not find her where he expected, but found her, he alleged in his complaint, living with a Joseph Murphy at Athacca, Kilmallock. Admittance to the house was refused him, he averred.

SHOOTING OF U.S. FLIER AROUSES CAPITAL

Attack by Mexicans Regarded Most Serious Event, Straining Relations of Countries

By International News Service.

Washington, Sept. 3.—The Mexican situation again was engaging the attention of official Washington today.

The wounding of an American aviator dying on the United States side of the border, apparently by Mexican soldiers, constitutes, in the opinion of officials, an act of hostility more serious than any in the long series that have caused the relations between this country and the Southern republic to remain strained for months.

If official reports to the War Department and the Department of State bear out the earlier versions of the affair, the government may be expected to send to Mexico City the most emphatic representations that have yet gone forward.

But that direct action would be taken seemed unlikely, in view of the policy of the government to follow a really drastic course only as a matter of last resort.

High officials in Washington have let it be known that there would be no intervention in Mexico unless conditions became such that intervention was the only remaining course. Officials of neither the State Department nor the War Department would discuss the situation today. They said that it would be necessary first to receive detailed reports of the latest occurrence on the border before they could indicate what course this government would take.

Urges Bigger Coal Output to Keep Prices Down

Washington, Sept. 3.—Steps must be taken now to insure an adequate coal production in order to prevent further increase in coal prices, J. D. A. Morrow, vice-president of the National Coal Association, told the Senate subcommittee investigating coal conditions.

"Production may be unlimited if there is nothing to limit it, and the car shortage has limited coal production.

"Increase production and you will insure low prices. You can't stop the prices from going down if the production is increased."

'WHITE WOLVES' UNEARTHED BY PARIS POLICE

Exclusive to The International News Service and the London Daily Express

Paris, Sept. 3.—A secret Chinese society, known as the "White Wolves" and similar to its workings to the Italian "black hand," has been unearthed by the police.

The society is said to deal in robbery and murder and to strangle victims when they fail to pay tribute to the society.

The organization has extorted money from the Chinese coolies and its ramifications extended into Algeria.

The "White Wolves" have been operating chiefly among the coolies near Fontainebleau and Nice. A dead Chinaman was discovered in the village of Gillancon, which led to the unearthing of the gang.

The French police failed to track the murderer and called in a Chinese detective. He spent some time in Chinese labor camps and discovered the "White Wolves," the chief being an ex-policeman. The society's specialty was extorting three-quarters of their wages from Chinese workmen.

Agents of the band worked in all of the Chinese camps in France and Algeria.

FIX BOUTS FOR SHOW AT PARK

Carlyle Club to Stage First Bout at Fenway Park Saturday

By JACK CONWAY.

The Carlyle S. and A. C., which is going to stage its first boxing show at Fenway Park Saturday afternoon, has signed Soldier Bartfield of New York and Eddie Fitzsimmons, who also hails from Big Broadway, to clash in the feature tussle of twelve rounds.

Ted (Kid) Lewis, English welterweight, and Fred Dyer of Australia will exchange punches in a ten-round frolic.

Charley Parker of the South End and Al Brady, Syracuse lightweight, will furnish the thrills in another ten-round number. There will also be two eight-round contests.

The rival boxers, according to the powers that be in the new club, will arrive in Boston Friday night. This will assure the fans that the men advertised will be on hand when festivities commence.

The program for the first show promises to be the best arranged by a local club since the days when there was a champion boxer in almost every section of the city. It is planned to conduct things in an orderly, business-like manner at Fenway Park, Saturday afternoon. With everything running off without a hitch, the directors of the new club do not believe the police will take any adverse action.

Johnny Donovan, South Boston lightweight, and Charley Parker of the South End will clash in the feature bout of twelve rounds at the Armory A. A.'s show in Mechanics Building, next Tuesday night. The boys have agreed to make 123 pounds at 3 o'clock.

Shaver O'Brien, South Boston welterweight, and Joe Gibbs, who is making his home in this city, will furnish the thrills in the semi-final whirl of ten frames. Charley Elkins of the South End and Mack Murphy, who hails from Atlantic, will box eight rounds, while Willie Gordon, South Boston lad, and Billy Cahill of Everett are also booked to travel over the eight-round route.

Chick West, who hopes to get a bout with Young Kiley, has been matched to clash with Paul Doyle of this city in a twelve-round whirl before the Casino A. C. of Lynn a week from tomorrow night. The winner of this match should be in line to get a contest with the Y. D. champion.

Mike Criss believes that West's ability as a body puncher would enable him to conquer Kiley. He also contends that his protege is the welterweight champion of New England as all of his matches have been fought at below 142 pounds.

Tony Palozolo declares Doyle would easily defeat Barney Adair in a ring-side ring. "Doyle could not get going at his best in his contest with Adair at the Commercial Club," said Palozolo. "The small ring favored Adair. The latter is a rushing mauler and he kept crowding his opponent at all times.

"I don't make a habit of criticising referees, but Jack Sheehan failed to make Adair step back after the clinches. The result was Doyle was unable to score with his left as he would in a twenty-four-foot ring provided Adair was made to step back after the fighting at close quarters. I thought Doyle was entitled to a draw at the least."

The lack of space prevents us from publishing several more letters we received in our mail in regard to the recent Ahearn-Wilson bout. The writers one of whom was a prominent boxer a few years ago, unite in declaring Wilson has established quite a reputation as a low puncher. "It is a joke when it is charged Ahearn is not game," writes the boxer, "for his record proves this statement to be false. He's always been forced to give away ten to fifteen pounds to get matches. He's met the best men in the business and has proved himself to be a classy performer."

Billy Carney, New Bedford welterweight, defeated Joe Young Quill of Brockton in another ten-round event in the opening contest of ten sessions. Willie Green of South Boston bested Johnny Emery of Cambridge.

Albert Winchester, seventy-four, of St. John, N. B., who has been visiting relatives in this city, died of heart disease during the first ten-round match. He was accompanied to the club by his son, John, who lives on Beacon street. The elderly man was dead when physicians came to his assistance.

K. OF C. TO PAY TRIBUTE TO BATTERING BABE

Babe Ruth is to be honored at Fenway Park Saturday, September 27, when members of the Boston councils of the Knights of Columbus will give the home-run king a reception that will mark the day as an event in his life. The project was launched at a meeting of all the grand knights of the Greater Boston councils at Pere Marquette rooms in South Boston. Edward McCarron, John Sertell and Edward Sullivan were elected to make arrangements for the big affair.

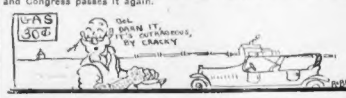
"TWO AND THREE"

"PUTTING THE NEXT ONE OVER" WITH "DUGS" DAER

FARMERS slapped daylight saving law silly.

IF Congress keeps on monkeying with that law everybody will be dizzier than a roach trying to crawl downstairs on an escalator. First, they had the cuckoos chirping one dozen at 11 o'clock and now they've got 'em shortchanging us again. First thing you know the sun will think it's the moon.

THE BILL croaking the daypower saving was passed over the President's veto. A veto is some authority possessed by an executive that gives Congress the parliamentary power to call him a liar without being pinched. Fr instance, Congress passes a bill, the President smears his veto on it and Congress passes it again.



THE only feature about the whole works being that Congress gets double pay for doing a thing once.

THE farmers don't want to save daylight. They don't want to save anything that you can't sell by the bushel. The country is hard enough to look at without having an extra hour to hurt your eyes with. It makes the hicks scramble out of the hay an hour earlier. Ordinarily, a farmer doesn't rise until late in the evening. If he can't sleep at least two hours he thinks he must have a tinge of insomnia. He tumbles loose from the alfalfa about the same time that the owls take off their smoked glasses and the cats cut the mufflers out on their laryngal exhausts. When the rest of the works is giving a short series of chautauqua snore talks through its nose, John Farmer rattles out into the wide, wide world, which ain't so wide since the antis started into to pass their narrow laws, and starts out to milk the cows with a cash register. He gits 20 cents a quart for that milk, which is 16 cents more than he knocked off in 1904. It's still the same cow, eats the same grass. Its vocabulary is the same old moocmoo, the milk is as royal blue as ever, but it costs five times more. The only explanation for this is that the Constitution of the United States was written on an Ouija board.

THEN the farmer takes advantage of the extra hour of darkness to sneak up on the hens and bilk 'em out of their eggs at 80 cents a dozen. Ten years ago, eggs were 15 a dozen. Hen still claws the same old worms which haven't advanced a cent in price since Noah first took 'em in as boarders on the Ark. Hen still eats the same old feed, chirps the same cackle and tastes as tough in the por pie. Everything is still the same and in most instances it's the same old egg. No reason for the boost in price except that the farmer is trying to get the price of a clock back that he wore out trying to keep it right with whatever time Congress voted it to be.

NOW Congress has put the clock back sixty little tick-tocks, but who's going to put the eggs and milk back sixty clicks? You can't blame the farmer for trying to get even. First Congress gave 'em an hour of daylight, then took it back again. You can't borrow an hour like you can a lawn mower. An alarm clock is a thingamajigger that raises hell a noise at the right time. It wakes the city sapps up and it wakes the country lobs up, the only difference is that the bird in the country gets up and stays up.

THE hicks got their extra hour of sunbeams and also about everything else. They're all plodding around in Rolls-Royces complaining about John D. shooting gasoline up to thirty cents a gallon. We also get the surplus hour of about as much light as will filter through a smoke spangled cliff-dwelling. But we don't get anything extra to look at. The only comeback we have, is that Congress is going to get after the producers of the high cost of living.

INDICATING that early to bed and earlier to rise makes a man healthy, wealthy and investigated.

BECKETT IS NOT IN CLASS OF DEMPSEY

New York, Sept. 3.—Joe Beckett doesn't trot in the same class with Jack Dempsey, the Salt Lake terror, Dodge fans on this side of the Atlantic are expressing this opinion today following Beckett's bout with Eddie McGoorty at the Olympia Coliseum in London.

The fact that McGoorty stayed seventeen rounds with the British champion, has furnished American followers of things fistic with a pretty fair line on the ability of Beckett, whose class was a point in doubt, prior to last night.

It would appear that he lacks the aggressiveness and punching power of the world's champion, or he would have disposed of the veteran Milwaukee baker in short order.

McGoorty is thirty years old, and has been fighting for fourteen years. He has not been in the limelight in the last four or five years, though he did some campaigning in Australia. Beckett is admitted to be at the top of his form.

The fact that McGoorty hit Beckett flush on the jaw in the third round with one of his erstwhile famous left hooks and failed to drop him, indicates that he was on his back in no way. In the old days McGoorty was one of our best ring artists. So the comparison furnished by the Beckett-McGoorty bout leaves but little in the Britisher's favor, except that he came away the winner.

JOSEPHS TO BOX HAYES IN CASINO MAIN BOUT

Bobby Josephs, South End featherweight, and Chick Hayes of Indianapolis will clash for the third time in the feature bout of twelve rounds at the Casino A. C. of Lynn tomorrow night. Josephs won the first contest, while the second was declared a draw. Both boys are now out for a victory.

The rest of the card follows: Charley Elkins, South End, vs. Frankie McFarland, North End, eight rounds; Joe La Rue, Beverly, vs. George Crouse, Boston, six rounds, and Billy Jagues, Beverly, vs. George Lee, Revere, six rounds.

The club has opened a Boston office at Room 33, No. 293 Washington street, and reservations for the show may be obtained there.

NINE GAMES FOR WORLD'S TITLE FAVORED

Chicago, Sept. 3.—The National Commission at a conference here recommended that the world's series be lengthened from the best four games out of seven to the best five out of nine. The plan will be submitted to club owners of both leagues for their approval.

Garry Herrmann says the public will be benefited, as there will be a chance for every one to see at least one of the nine games in the cities where they are played. He also called attention to the benefit it would be to players in their share of the profits.

TED LEWIS WINNER OVER MIKE O'DOWD

Syracuse, Sept. 3.—The remarkable showing of Ted "Kid" Lewis in his victory over Mike O'Dowd in their bout last night convinced the fans of this city that the former welterweight champion has rounded his old form. Lewis outpointed O'Dowd in every one of the ten rounds and in such a decisive manner that he clearly showed he was the master of the Hebrahobber.

What impressed the spectators was Lewis standing toe to toe with O'Dowd and outslugging the latter all the way. Only a strong flasher like O'Dowd could have stood the terrible punishment that the opinion of all it was the roughest and most bitter contest ever held in this State. There is not the slightest doubt that in a future contest Lewis will surely stop O'Dowd before ten rounds.

Twilight Game in Somerville This Evening

The second game of the twilight series between the Lincoln Club and the Somerville R. C. will be played at Lincoln Park, Somerville, commencing at 6 o'clock this evening. The opener went to Lincoln. The three-game series will decide the championship of Somerville. The Somerville B. B. battery is A. Graham and Ned Keating, while the Lincoln Club will have Harrett on the mound and "Chick" Garrigan on the receiving end.

THIRTY OUT FOR FOOTBALL AT HARVARD

Fisher to Make Few Changes from System Inaugurated by Haughton

"I intend to make no radical changes in the football system installed at Harvard by my predecessor, Percy Haughton," says Coach Robert T. Fisher of Harvard, who is now busily engaged in getting his charges ready for the big football season which the Crimson is scheduled to play.

"Here and there minor matters will be adjusted, but on the whole Harvard football will depend pretty much on those methods which have brought it such successful results in the past."

The Crimson squad, consisting of backs, ends and centres, resumed work on Soldiers' Field today. Candidates were expected to number about thirty, end and centre players reporting in larger numbers. Of the men now under instruction eighteen are out for backfield berths.

CASEY LOOKS FIT.

Eddie Casey, to all appearances, is fit for a hard season. He scales 158 pounds and manages to keep around that weight throughout the greater part of the Fall. Casey has been summering at the West End House camp at Cornish, N. H., and a football has claimed his attention almost as much as his three meals a day. In condition, Casey should prove one of the best halfbacks in intercollegiate circles.

Billie Murray, quarterback, is back ready for action. Murray weighs 163 pounds, which is slightly over weight. He has been spending the Summer on a farm. Winslow Felton, another quarterback, who will bear watching, is just fresh from breaking in horses on a Colorado ranch. He is pretty near to playing weight and will take things easy for awhile. Both lads made their "H" in the Yale game in 1916.

ASSISTANT COACHES.

Associated with Coach Fisher this week are Dick Wigglesworth, Don Watson and Harry Gardiner, quarterback coaches, and Tommy Campbell and Sam Felton. Huntington Hardwick will report within a few days and he put in charge of the halfbacks. Wallie Trumbull, who acted as captain when Charlie Brickley was ill in 1914, is to take care of the tackles, and Bill Snow of the 1916 team will look after the guards. The ends will be in charge of Charlie Coolidge of the 1916 team, and Derrie Parmenter will drill the centres.

RED SOX-YANKS GAMES AGAIN PUT OVER

The fickle public mind
Twixt pro and con,
The best we need to show
Are ready now to "root" Carl Mays
Songs of the Bleachers.

By NICK FLATLEY.

There is a chance—if the rain ever lets up—of a couple of records going whence are the snows of yesteryear, when the Red Sox and Yankees hook up in their farewell double header of the season at Penway Park.

The Yanks are here on the crest of an eight straight victory pilgrage, and that winning record should undoubtedly whatever.

Then, too, as you doubtless know, there's that home run mark that will be equalled the next time Battering Babe takes "ahoda" one—and by the same token is likely to be bettered on the same day. Two stupendous bumps in one afternoon is nothing for the big fellow when he's in a hitting mood.

The double-header scheduled for today went by the boards on account of the wet, but as tomorrow is an open day, there is still hope of a couple of contests.

The double header will mark the last appearance of the Yanks here ... season. The Sox hop next over ... series with the A's and return Monday to open up with a ... month stuhe. The Yanks can stand a lot of beating, for they have hit a clip now that would have carried them to victory had they picked up a month ago

OUT FOR SECOND PLACE.

Though they're practically out of the race as Shakespeare would say, they're still very much in the hunt for second place and are likely to step in there unless they go to ruin once more. They have been a sad disappointment for New York fans this season, but are apparently off now to stir up enthusiasm for their proposed post-season clash with the Giants.

The baseball world is interested now in just two things, the World's Series and Babe Ruth's performances. The presence of the large clouter assures the Red Sox great crowds for the stretch of the schedule, even though the long standing record be improved on. Baseball hasn't known anything more thrilling than one of those partial wallops and your fan is sure strong for thrills.

Although Carl Mays is with the Yankees here, chances are he will not get a chance to work

Too Much Mystery Behind New Club

By GILL.

The idea of open-air boxing as planned by the new Carlyle A. C. has "caught on" with the Boston boxing fans, but there is one thing that must be cleared up before the new venture will be "put over" big.

At the present time there is too much mystery concerning the men behind the organization. Who are the officers—the matchmaker, etc. The fans want to know and it is up to those handling the affairs of the club to let the fans "in."

How to Play Baseball

THIS is the eighty-seventh of a series of 100 articles by Hugh S. Fullerton, celebrated baseball expert, on "How to Play Baseball." These articles will be a feature of the American's sport pages each day. Don't miss them.

By HUGH S. FULLERTON.

There is more argument on teams about how the infield should be played in certain stages of a game than about almost any simple problem of baseball

The argument most frequently arises over the alignment of the infield when a runner is on third and the difference of opinion arises most frequently when runners are both on first and third

The problem, in the first place, is one for the managers who must decide whether the stage of the game justifies risking the chance of allowing the opponent one run. That is merely the study of the stage of the game. To draw the four infielders close, quit the outfield in to short throwing distance, and to strive to cut off the runner at the plate, almost doubles the chances of a batter making a safe hit if he hits the ball at all, on the ground

In such a contingency the batter inevitably will shorten the grip on his bat slightly and strive to crash the ball on the ground or chop it on top for a slow bounder

The teams which ... such a contingency, rely upon long sacrifice flies are fewer and fewer. Only fifty per cent of the hits that get through an infield playing close are balls that could have been handled by the infielders had they been playing back in their natural positions. The distance from the plate ... which a catcher draws infield plays ... is ... to the speed of the runner on third base. With a slow runner trying to score the team plays the "middle distance."

The problem becomes more complicated when two runners are on first and third and the situation affords greater chances for making plays. With the best team on the first and third baseman play close to the plate, their distance depending upon the speed of the runner on third, while the second baseman and short stop play a bit behind the "middle distance," almost back to their natural positions, with the outfielders left almost in position

The outfield distance from the plate in that situation must depend upon two things: the speed of the runner on third and the known driving power of the batter. As a rule it is better to risk having a long fly go over an outfielder's head than to allow a Texas leaguer to foul safe, but that too, is a problem of judgment in each instance

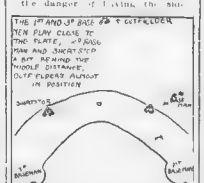
The second baseman and short stop, in the sub-middle distance, are in position either to throw to the plate to catch the runner if the ball comes to them fast and on a good bound, or to try for the double play if two outs will retire the side. This play is most approved by good managers

There is another play which can be made frequently. That is a throw to second to catch a runner coming down from first. The coach at first ... of the batter ... ticking to ... with runners on first and third and the infield drawn closer to the plate, to ... send the runner on first to second on the first ... ball to ... the danger of ... the side retired rankes by a double play.



A strong throwing catcher ... speedy second baseman ... play close ... the batter ... throw out almost every runner ... will be found that the runner stealing ... does not risk ... or try ... as hard in ... risking an individual play ...

TRADING QUIET ON BOSTON EXCHANGE

Local Market Narrow and Irregular Throughout the Forenoon

At the start the Boston market was steady and quiet and losses were almost evenly divided. This was true during the morning, irregularity characterizing the list in which fluctuations were small, and trading lacked breadth. The strength displayed by some issues had little effect upon speculation on the local exchange.

Gains in advance the most during the morning included Old Dominion, St. Mary's Land and Punta Alegre. They gained a point each.

Among stocks to recede were Boston & Albany, Worthington and Waldorf-Astoria. They declined from one to three points. Others in sell fractionally were New East Hotel, Island Creek, National Leather, Parish and Bingham, Mexican Investments, Swift & Co., Lisbon and Wallace. Parish and Bingham was especially active and moved up and down within a trifling fraction.

Coppers ruled higher, but were inactive as a group. Very little of importance to the local trading during the forenoon.

Offer German Treasury Bills

In the effort to buy foodstuffs and commodities in this country, the German government is offering New York banks several million dollars' worth of its treasury bills to run one, two or three years. But bankers are hesitant upon taking bills at this time.

Wool Consumed in July

Wool consumed in this country in July amounted to 62,000,000 pounds, according to the Bureau of Markets report, or 8,000,000 pounds more than were used in June.

CRUCIBLE LED WHOLE LIST IN GAINS

Baldwin Another Feature in an Active and Advancing Market

By W. H. ROSS,
Financial Editor.

Stocks were strong in New York at noon, most of them being at their highest for the morning. The market had been active from the outset, first hour transactions totalling almost 300,000 shares. Crucible led the whole list for gains. By noon it was up 3¾ at 182. Baldwin was another feature. It showing an advance of 6¾ at 113¾, its forenoon high.

Other strong stocks included Bethlehem B, Car and Foundry, American Locomotive, Railway Steel Springs, Central Leather, Woolen common, Chandler, Atlantic Gulf, Corn Products, Goodrich, U. S. Rubber, Stromberg and Endicott Johnson. They were up from two to four points at their highest.

General Motors was off four points at 242 at noon, after selling at 248. Southern Pacific had receded four points to 102½. Profit taking reduced the gains of a number of issues.

At 12 o'clock U. S. Steel was up¼ at 105¾. Its morning highest was 106, it sold as low as 104¾.

It was reported at Washington that exports from the United States during July totalled $576,082,915, and imports $342,999,693.

OPEN AT HIGH RECORD PRICE.

The market began strong. General Motors and Crucible sold at record highest prices immediately. Gains ran through the list and a number were substantial. Encouraged by the advance yesterday the public resumed buying stocks. While demand was confined to no section, it was most pronounced in the War list. The execution of buying orders absorbed all offerings at once and gave the market an active start. Covering of shorts had considerable influence upon the price level. Initial gains ranged from fractions to three points. Motors continued the advance which made them prominent in the late trading on Tuesday, but Crucible attracted the most attention. Within an hour it was thirteen points above its opening figure for the previous session. Utmost gains were by milk, motors, steels and equipments. Atlantic Gulf climbed the highest among shipping stocks. Baldwin was a first-hour feature.

HOPE FOR LABOR PEACE.

The higher valuation of securities was credited to hope that capital and labor will be able to reach an understanding which will insure industrial peace and opportunity for profitable operations.

The outlook in the steel industry is improving. Despite the high cost of production, building operations are widening. More has been done in this line than is generally known. Operations increased 221 per cent. during July. The consumption of oil is steadily increasing, and the activity of manufacturers of automobiles and their accessories is a guarantee of big earnings for such corporations.

Joplin Ore Mines

Prices for zinc blends ores were reduced $2.50 a ton in the Joplin market last week. Prices for the base range were $45 to $46 for 60 per cent. zinc blende. Calamine was sold at $35 to $36, and lead at $65 to $76 per ton of 80 per cent. lead. The production has grown to approximately 9,000 tons per week and shipments to stocks have reached the 20,000-ton level.

CONSIDERABLE COPPER IN SPECULATIVE HANDS

Copper was quiet when the market reopened after a triple holiday. Considerable copper has been obtained by speculators recently and their offerings caused a lowering of quotations in some quarters last week. But their activity has decidedly diminished for they are now asking 22¾ to 22¾ cents a pound for metal to be delivered in September and October deliveries. Firmly maintained their quotations at 23¼ cents for September and 24 cents for October and November deliveries. More buying is expected this week.

The market for lead is quiet but steady. A little improvement is reported in spelter. Consumes are showing more interest.

Salmon Pack Will Be Light

According to a consular report from British Columbia, the Alaskan salmon pack will be light this year. Many of the chief canneries in Alaska are closed already. One concern with capacity for 125,000 cases was able to obtain only enough for 3,800. But on the Skeena River the salmon run will be the greatest in the history of the fishery.

Spirit of Public Service Is Abroad

Former Governor Foss of Massachusetts made an interesting statement recently concerning the danger of our railroads to democracy under private management. He declared that private management of the railroads corrupted our Legislatures and controlled our governments.

It is ridiculous to talk about turning the railroads back to private owners, who, with their Wall street connections, have exploited the people through the railroads and have brought them to their present condition. Wall street simply wants another opportunity to reorganize these properties, which they are in the habit of doing about every ten years.

The high cost of living is very closely allied to transportation costs, for the transportation interest in this country is our largest industry. These railroads are the arteries of our commercial and industrial life, and yet few people realize that when the cost of transportation on any merchantable article is increased 25 per cent., the increase becomes 100 per cent. when it reaches the consumer.

No one in America has a greater personal knowledge of these facts concerning which ex-Governor Foss speaks. He has been one of the largest owners of railroad and street railway stock in the world, and has been reputed to have made more than $20,000,000 in speculation in the securities of these great quasi-public corporations. The number of men who have played the game in the old-fashioned way and have experienced a revulsion of feeling toward it is every day increasing. The spirit of public service is abroad, especially among our abler men. Lawyers of distinction are upholding the cause of the oppressed and even of the unpopular when it is being attacked in the way that attacks democracy, as did Mr. Untermeyer of New York in his defence of the Rand School. Thus, also, is the truth being told, not by way of charge, but by way of confession from those who know of their own personal experience how the gay, but brutal, old game was played.

No Fear of Any Revolution From Without

Every day comes an announcement that some great landmark where liquor was dispensed has been quietly altered for the dispensation of other goods. The changes are going on constantly and without even a ripple upon the equanimity of the public peace.

There is no greater tribute to the law-abiding character and the discipline of an intelligent people under a free government than the way in which the American people are accepting the prohibition law. In States where there may be serious question whether or not a majority of the people approve of the law, it is, nevertheless, accepted as the law with a resignation and good nature that shows how deeply implanted in our character and habits is the reign of law in our American democracy.

The acceptance of the draft was another great piece of evidence of the orderliness and discipline and responsibility and patriotic subordination to the voice of the people as expressed through the constitutional forms. Against this invincible training in democracy the waves of revolution from outside will surge in vain.

Revolution can never be an imported product in America. If revolution ever does come it will come through those mistakes made within our borders which destroy the confidence of the American people in their own government and take away their respect for the law. American institutions can never die except by suicide. The enemies to be sought are not without our frontiers, but within them, and they are not confined to the "roughneck." There are as many traitors in silk stockings as in overalls, and more in proportion to their numbers. And as many treasons are committed hypocritically in the name of law and order as are committed avowedly against law and order; and it is the hypocritical, insidious treason that is the most dangerous.

Mr. Warren and the Taxation of Railways

Mr. Bentley W. Warren, who for years enjoyed a remunerative street railway practice under the old private management regime, appeared the other day before the commission appointed by the Governor to investigate and report upon street railway conditions throughout the State; and to this body Mr. Warren made the naive remark that street railways, like the public schools, ought to be relieved of taxation, because they were rendering a public service.

Well, in a sense, the shoe manufacturer is rendering a public service, and so is the horseshoer, and so is every useful private business. Mr. Warren forgot to consider that the public schools are owned and operated by the public. In the old days when they were owned and operated by private individuals for private profit, and when the old-fashioned reactionaries denounced the agitation to make them public as socialistic and all the other bad things, they were taxed. So were the water companies when they were managed for private profit by private individuals; so were the streets when they were built by private individuals, and controlled by private individuals for profit, and when you had to pay a toll every few miles; and so were the bridges.

When the street railways become public property and are operated not for private profit but entirely for the public profit, there will cease to be any question of taxation.

Welcome Boy Stowaway

Why can we not give a hospitable welcome to that brave French boy, Edward Defrenez, who stowed himself away in the black and horrible hold of an ocean liner and endured incredible hardships, fighting the rats and hunger and thirst and the black darkness and every imaginable physical discomforture and danger, to reach our shores where he had heard that there was opportunity for such as he.

Assuming, as we must, that the boy's character is good, what an asset would be such determination and resoluteness and ambition.

This French boy's case appeals strongly to our imagination. We should like to see him admitted to the country if his moral character proves to be worthy.

THE VALUABLE CHECK OF A CHECKBOOK

Money is getting away from you and you cannot think at the end of a week, let alone at the end of a year, how you have spent your income.

An expense account where every item is entered you think too much trouble—or are you really afraid to find out where the money goes?

You have thought of adopting a budget system, keeping within the allotment for each certain purpose, but you cannot be so methodical—or is it that you do not wish to deny yourself in the line which such a system would show up?

If it seems easier to you, there is another way to become a thoughtful spender, and that is to pay by check, and its results may surprise you.

Go about it by depositing the greater part of your income and keep very little currency about you—then pay by check.

Try this plan.

Teaching Applied Science

By Dean C. A. Adams, Harvard University

It is safe to say that most of the rapid strides or the long strides have been made as the result of research—it doesn't make any difference whether you call it engineering research or scientific research. There is no line between pure science and applied science; that is all nonsense. If applied science is taught in such a way that it is not pure science it is not science at all. If pure science is taught without reference to its application and without interest in its application it is not effective. So that the work of engineering research is one of the most important functions of a really comprehensive engineering school today.

Our manufacturers are just beginning to realize that; they are beginning to come to the engineering schools for assistance. Some of them have research laboratories of their own. The research laboratory of the General Electric Company in Schenectady is fully as large as the Harvard building; and the men that they employ are not primarily engineers, they are primarily men of the highest possible scientific attainments, because they are the men who are best prepared to solve the problems. And their work goes beyond the immediate results, for while they are working always for some immediate object, in many cases they have to carry on research of a preparatory nature, to lay the foundation, the results of which are not immediately applicable. In that sense it is pure scientific research.

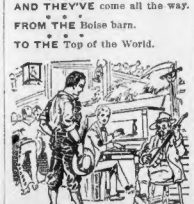
Registered U. S. Patent Office.

By K. C. B.

ONCE UPON a time,
OUT IN San Francisco,
THERE WAS a hotel manager.
AND HE was tired.
SHAKING HANDS with people.
AND SMILING all the time.
AND EATING his own food.
AND HE wanted a rest.
AND HE said to Tommy Keating,
OR TO Charlie Badd.
OR TO Victor the Chef.
OR TO somebody.
"I'M GOING away.
"UP TO Boise Springs.
"Where I can run around.
"WITHOUT ANY coat.
"AND WITHOUT any collar.
"AND I'M going to rest."
AND SO one morning.
WHEN THE sun was shining.
HE WENT down to the ferry.
AND ACROSS to Oakland.
AND TOOK a train.
AND IN a few hours.
HE WAS at Boise.
AND HE changed his clothes.
TO AN old suit.
SO AS to save his good one.
FOR GOING back home.
AND SO when he pitched quoits,
HE COULD wipe his hands on his pants.
AND THE very first night.
THAT HE was at Boise.
THERE WAS a dance.
IN AN old barn.
AND HE went down there.
AND THE music was played,
BY A two-piece orchestra.
ONE AT a banjo.
AND ONE at a piano.
AND THE orchestra leader.
WAS A light-haired boy.
WITH A wonderful smile.
AND AN outdoor complexion,
AND TOWN store clothes.
AND HOW he could play!
AND AFTER the dance,
THE HOTEL manager.
WENT AND spoke to the boy.
AND HE'D never had a lesson.
AND HE couldn't read music.
AND HE didn't think he was good.
AND HE got red in the face.
AND ANYWAY.
JUST A few months later.
THE HOTEL manager.
SENT WORD to the boy.
TO COME down to the city.
AND THE boy came down.
AND THE hotel manager.
MADE HIM orchestra leader.
OF A ten-piece orchestra.
JUST TO play dance music.
AND BOY, oh, boy!
YOU CAN take it from me.
THAT HE made 'em play.
AND NOW what do you think.
WHY JUST this morning.
WHEN MY mail came in.
THERE WAS a card.
FROM THE Hotel Biltmore.
IN NEW York City.
AND IT says that Art Hickman.
AND HIS celebrated orchestra.
ARE GOING to be there.
AND THEY'VE come all the way.
FROM THE Boise barn.
TO THE Top of the World.



I THANK you.

SOUND WAVE HITTING EAR PRODUCES NOISE

By Garrett P. Serviss

"To settle a friendly argument would you kindly explain just what 'noise' is?" G. claims that when a gun is fired no noise is heard, but merely the sound waves which are recorded on the drums of the ears; J. takes the opposite viewpoint. H. M. G., Hartford, Conn."

ANSWER this question because by its frequent recurrence it indicates a widespread confusion of mind resulting from a habit of loose, metaphysical thinking.

When you apply metaphysics to the solution of physical problems you find yourself involved in mental smoke, or dealing with that kind of mathematics which sees curvature in a straight line. There is a type of mind that delights in these things simply because they are cloudy, and are not subject to any solid test.

Now, as to the question of "H. M. G." the disputant "G" makes a self-contradictory statement, the second clause of which defines what the first clause declares has no existence. When a gun is fired, he says, no noise is heard, "but merely the sound waves which are recorded on the drums of the ears." Well, that record, or effect, of the sound-wave on the ear drums is noise, or at least it is the basis of what the brain of the owner of the ears recognizes as "noise."

Effect Is Noise

The sound-waves are not noise, but the effect that they produce on the brain, through the ears, is noise. Let the same waves fall upon an inanimate object and the effect that they produce on that object is not noise, but only vibration. When the gun is fired it sets up expanding waves in the air, and these waves can never produce what we call sound or noise, unless they set up, in some auditory apparatus, vibrations, which some nervous centre of intelligence may interpret, or describe, under the name of noise.

What the other disputant, "J," means when he "takes the opposite viewpoint" can only be that "noise" is a thing in itself, which undergoes no transformation, but is the same on leaving the gun as it is on reaching the brain through the ear-drums and the auditory nerves. That this is not so has been sufficiently proved by what is said above. Sound-waves are not in themselves noise, but they are the cause of noise. Noise is an effect produced by these waves upon the nervous system of a man, or other animal supplied with auditory organs.

Another thing; not all the waves that are set in motion in the air by various causes are capable of producing the impression called sound. Only a part of the full gamut has that effect. But the limits for the human ear may not be the same as those for the ear of, for instance, an insect. The latter may possibly perceive as sounds vibrations too short, or too rapid, to make an impression on our auditory apparatus.

Too Long and Slow

On the other hand, there are waves too long, or too slow, to be perceived as sound by our ears. Yet these as well as the others form a continuous series with the sound-producing waves, the only difference being one of length, or of frequency, and an auditory apparatus is conceivable which could convert into sound the vibrations that lie below as well as those that lie above, the human limits of audition.

It is the same with light, except that the light-waves are supposed to be conveyed by a different medium than air—the so-called luminiferous ether. The sun sends forth these waves, and a certain range of them, varying in wavelength from about 1-36,000th to 1-63,000th of an inch, produces upon the human brain, through the intervention of the eye, the impression of light and color.

MATRIMONY SWEEPS ALONG BROADWAY

An epidemic of matrimony is sweeping Broadway. Footlight favorites, supposed to be heartless, are succumbing in veritable droves to Cupid's bombardment, proving that, after all, the love microbe is "catching." Some of the most fascinating young ladies who have come before the public eye during the past year are about to be married. You will find an interesting article on the subject in the next

BOSTON SUNDAY ADVERTISER

SOFT ANSWER DOES NOT ALWAYS WORK

By Mrs. Wilson Woodrow

A WOMAN was talking to me.

"I thank heaven three times daily," she said, "that it is not my lot in life to stand behind an 'information' window or at the seat of customs on a trolley car or watching the shifting lights on a telephone switchboard or in any other capacity when I am thrust into intimate contact with the hurried, worried, inconsiderate public. I would either be fired or in a padded cell in less than a week."

I agreed with her. She is one of those high-strung creatures who lose their heads completely in any kind of confusion and who are constantly getting fussed over trifles.

Yet there are people who occupy those positions day after day—people of a nervous temperament, too—who somehow manage to keep quite unaffected by the strain, who even seem unconscious that there is any strain.

There is a man, for instance, at the information bureau of a certain big terminal with which I am familiar. It is really a pleasure to watch him. That station, in its confusion, its heat, its general conditions, comes pretty close to my idea of Gehenna, and all day long this man is besieged by a surging mob shrieking inquiries at him which are for the most part either foolish or unnecessary.

Yet he never becomes disconcerted for a moment, never raises his voice, always is smiling. Swiftly, methodically and accurately he furnishes in each case the exact information desired, and he actually seems to enjoy being of help. And such is the effect of his unfailing courtesy and his smooth, easy efficiency that even the most fretful and importunate questioner leaves his window satisfied and at peace.

I have watched other men in similar positions. Only too often they allow themselves to become fretted and upset. They lose their tempers and return short, grumpy answers which only result in more questions for themselves and possibly a time-wasting wrangle with the information seeker and the crowd held waiting by this becomes in turn impatient and cross, so that in less than no time he has a dozen quarrels on his hands and nothing is accomplished.

The same thing can be observed in the telephone service. The telephone company has, as I understand, a list of about fifty phrases which are supposed to cover every possible emergency confronting its operators, and which are invariably couched in courteous language.

Contrary to the Biblical assertion, however, these "soft answers" instead of turning away wrath often excite the annoyed and impatient subscriber to an almost apoplectic pitch of fury.

Why?

Because the indifference or even insolence with which the polite words are frequently uttered makes them meaningless and inane.

Rudeness always begets rudeness; fussiness begets fussiness; irritation begets irritation.

He who ruleth his spirit is not only greater than he who taketh a city, but he's also going to save himself a lot of trouble and annoyance.

Music in Bohemia

For the last two hundred years almost every musical generation in Europe has counted among its stars a Bohemian—either with a genuine Slavic spelling or a German or Germanized name. Bohemia certainly has the right to be proud of the fact that one of Gluck's teachers, the Prague monk and hymn-writer, Bohuslav Tchernohorsky, was of Czech blood, and that the influence of the famous pianist, Johann L. Dussek (1761-1812), was equal to that of Clementi, while in invention and identity he surpassed the great Italian composer.

Frantishek Skroup (1801-1862), the composer of the first original Bohemian opera, in his "Where is My Fatherland?" anticipated the glory and joy that came to Czecho-Slovakia in December, 1918. The Czech national movement found, however, its first real centre in the National Theatre, which was opened in Prague in 1862, and Bedrzich Smetana (1824-1884) set the ball rolling by writing his famous opera, "Branibori v. Czechach" ("The Brandenburgs in Prague"). Smetana, the founder of the Bohemian School of National Music, took not only the subjects of his principal compositions from the history of the Bohemian people, but also nationalized the department of orchestral music.
